THE FIGHT to save young Leopold and Loeb begins with an army of scientists, specialists, experts. The prosecutor says the young men, having pleaded guilty, cannot plead insanity. If they were insane they could not be guilty.

But experts will be heard, and the judge will decide whether the young men shall be hanged, imprisoned, or sent to the insane asylum.

GOOD COMES from evil. This case will concentrate attention on the endecrine glands, which govern us and control the functioning of brain and body.

Scientists will swear that young Loeb is a murderer, not through his fault, but because his pineal and pituary glands are abnormal.

They will say that, with certain glands lacking, a human being feels no more emotion than a stone.

IF THE COURT allows it, they can demonstrate the truth of their statements.

It will be an unpleasant trial. Fortunately the plea of guilty will shorten it. But it will help to educate many of those that especially need education. They read "the murders" if they don't read anything else.

TROTZKY is studying Japanese. Japan, pleased to find new friends, is delighted to learn that Trotzky can write in Japanese characters "Leon Trotzky is Japan's friend."

THAT MAY be true. But Leon Trotzky is no Muscovite, and his racial birthplace is far from Russia. HE may be fond of the Japanese, but the Russians are NOT.

Japan has never troubled Russia except in the one big war, but the Russians for a thousand years have learned to fear men that came riding on shaggy ponies from the East, men with high cheek bones, savage tartars on whose ferocity Jengis Khan built up his vast empire in Mongolia, China, Persia, killing five million human beings, conquering a dozen kings.

Trotzky will have been dead a long while before real Russians lose their hatred and fear of those men from the East.

A SHORT TIME ago, in this column, you were warned against selling wheat "short," as high priced wheat would help Coolidge's election, and the powerful men WANT that election.

Don't gamble, but be careful how you go short of grains.

Wheat closed yesterday six cents a bushel higher than the day before.

THE WORLD really is becoming a "small place." American fliers, coming home by the shortest route, will put on Arctic clothing as they leave England.

Their hop will be from England to Greenland, and then they will be getting Summer things ready for their joyous, triumphant landing in warm America. "Around the World in Eighty Days" was a fairy story. Around the world in six days or less will be REALITY, before 2000 A. D.

THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION orders the big Steel Company to discontinue certain "cost plus" and "Pittsburgh plus" system of charges, declared to be "unfair methods of competition."

Financial experts guess that the decision will cost the United States Steel thirty millions a year. The big Steel Company could "absorb" the loss of thirty millions as easily as a small concern could stand the loss of a typewriter.

When you SELL steel at a profit for less than it costs many of your competitors to MAKE it, you can stand several slings and arrows of outrageous fortune.

HUMAN BEINGS should not always use their own judgment, no matter how good their intentions. Elizabeth Sorber, nurse, in charge of a child born deformed, heard the father say, "It would have been better had the child not lived." So she killed the infant, crushing it to death in her arms.

It is difficult to think of a

LOEB GRINS AT 'DEATH CHISEL'

Franks Case Defendants Unmoved by Grim Exhibits at Trial for Life

Criminal Court, Chicago, July 24 (I. N. S.)—Bit by bit, and fact by fact, the prosecution of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb, confessed kidnapers and slayers of Young Bobby Franks added today to the "mountain of evidence" on which State Attorney Crowe has repeatedly vowed he will send them to the gallows.

A steady stream of witnesses flowed through the high chair by the judge's box in criminal court today and added their contributions to the damning net of evidence that the State is throwing about the pair of young college students.

Hotel clerks, railroad employes, fellow students of the pair, and servants in the wealthy home of young Leopold speedily passed in and out of the witness chair during the session.

A dramatic touch was added when Bernard Hunt, a night watchman, identified a blood-stained chisel thrown from an auto the morning of May 22, a few hours after the murder.

Hunt was the man who picked the chisel up. The State claims it was the weapon used in beating out the life of young Franks.

"There was fresh blood on the chisel when I found it," said Hunt. The chisel was entered as evidence.

As Hunt described how he picked the chisel up Loeb and Leopold whispered to each other and smiled. They were unmoved by none of the grim exhibits which, from time to time, were displayed in the court room.

MAID IS WITNESS.

Elizabeth Sattler, a maid in the Leopold home, identified a portable typewriter dragged from a park lagoon as one similar to a machine she had seen in the Leopold house. It was on this machine the State charges the accused boys wrote their ransom letters to the Franks boy's father. The maid also identified a burned auto robe as one re-

20 Hurt in Bargain Counter Rush for 1-Cent Brooms

Norristown, Pa., July 24.—Twenty persons, most of whom were slightly injured in a bargain counter rush today when a store advertised the sale of one cent brooms.

Twelve of the women were taken to a hospital suffering from cuts and bruises.

The crowd began to gather before the store opened and those nearest to the entrance were pushed against the show windows.

In the scramble to escape the falling glass many women were knocked down. Many pocketbooks were lost.

Two men and a girl were victims of the heat today.

One of the men is dying at the Boston City Hospital after falling 16 feet from a window sill where he went to get relief. He is William Ahearn, twenty-six, of No. 7 Union Park street, South End. He was picked up unconscious after falling from the second floor.

Miss Mary Carroll, thirty, of No. 5 Corey street, Charlestown, was overcome at North Station. She was taken to Haymarket Relief Hospital.

William A. Sullivan, 50, No. 653 Shawmut avenue, was stricken on South Market street and removed to the Haymarket Hospital.

At 11 o'clock today the thermometer had jumped to 85 degrees.

Reports from the Weather Bureau indicated that Boston would be in the grip of the heat wave all day today, tonight and tomorrow. There is no indication of approaching showers.

DETROIT BANDITS TAKE $125,000 GEMS

Detroit, July 25 (I.N.S.).—Two armed bandits followed Joseph Mazer, New York jewelry merchant, into the Capitol Jewelry Shop today, held up Mazer, Jack Wolfe, proprietor, and Matthew Donohue, a clerk, and escaped with $135,000 in gems.

Most of the loot was in two bags belonging to Mazer. He told police he is senior member of the firm of Joseph Mazer & Co. of New York.

MARINES GET 8 IN RUM RAID

Power Boat, Motor Truck and 2000 Gallons of Alcohol Are Taken at South Boston

Eight alleged liquor smugglers were captured at the point of rifles and four escaped in a spectacular raid conducted by a squad of Marines under command of Captain Archibald Young at the Army Base in South Boston today.

Three warning shots were fired.

The prisoners, surprised in true military style, offered no resistance. They were turned over to the police of South Boston. They were booked for violating the prohibition act.

The eight prisoners were arraigned before United States Commissioner Storey on charges of violating the customs law and also with trespassing on a naval reservation without permits. They all entered pleas of not guilty and each was held in $2,500 for a hearing on July 31.

A stir was caused at the Federal Building when a little woman plainly dressed furnished $20,000 sureties to cover the bail for all the alleged smugglers. She is Mrs. Mello Stavanno of No. 142 Warren street, Allston. She gave as surety equity in apartment houses valued at $100,000 in Allston.

With them were seized a five-ton truck, a power boat, marked D-143 which the Federal authorities claim is a rum-runner, and 2,000 gallons of alcohol in cans.

The motor truck is said by the police to be registered in the name of George A. Campbell of No. 6 Monument street, Charlestown.

MARINES POSTED

The raid was the result of precautions taken by Deputy Surveyor of the Port Thomas F. Finnegan who received complaints of suspicious activities of late in the vicinity of the dry dock. He asked that the marine guard be on the alert.

Marine Gunner Charles A. Bennington got a tip that a rum runner planned to dock near the army base. Captain Young had his marines posted at every point.

"When I reached a point near the dry dock," said Captain Young in his report, "I noticed a small boat pulled up at the dock and men carrying cans from the boat to a motor truck. I approached close enough to ask them what they were doing.

"Noticing that they did not heed my first challenge I fired a shot in the air to let them know we meant business and they quit on the spot.

"Then I fired two shots, the signal to assemble the sentries. Before all our guard responded four men escaped in the darkness, but we caught eight and turned them over to the South Boston police."

The accused gave the following

SHIPS OFF TO MEET FLIERS

Five Vessels Leave Navy Yard for North; City Plans to come Globe-Girdlers

Bound for lonely posts on the coasts of Iceland and Labrador, where they will watch for the return of Uncle Sam's round-the-world fliers and escort them in to Boston, five destroyers left Charlestown Navy Yard today.

They were the Lawrence, Barry, Coghlan, MacFarland and Charles Osborne.

The first four came up from Newport, R. I., this morning and were joined by the Osborne here.

At Halifax, N. S., the cruiser Milwaukee will join the destroyers. She is carrying a seaplane that will be available in emerg[illegible].

Officers and cre[illegible] the Osborne expect to be assign[illegible] a particularly bleak section of the Labrador shore. Once the army fliers have been sighted coming from the east, the destroyers will mobilize and serve as an escort on the last two or three legs of the journey.

The fliers will land at East Boston airport, their first American landing since they started from the West Coast weeks ago.

Boston already is planning a welcome for them. Twenty-five air-

In centre is shown the Butler camp at Peabody and sketch illustrating how the kidnaper sought to remove the sleeping child. The father, Edward Ross, of Lynn, who was divorced by Mrs. Ross three months ago on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment, was questioned today. He denied knowledge of the attempted kidnaping.

GRILL FATHER IN KIDNAPING

On the theory that her daddy might have been implicated in the attempt to kidnap Sanda Ross, three year old daughter of Mrs. Ruby Ross, a young divorcee of South Peabody, police today questioned Edward Ross, the child's father in Lynn.

Ross denied any knowledge of the affair. He said it was news to him. The attempt made by two men to snatch the child from the bed while she was sleeping beside her mother at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Butler in South Peabody, was frustrated by a falling screen.

One of the men dislodged it and it made such a noise when it fell that it awakened Butler, who put the marauders to rout. Butler did not get a sufficient look at the men in the scrimmage in the dark to identify either of them.

When Butler hurried from his room he saw a man's arm reaching through the window toward the

CASHIER IS ACCUSED OF THEFT

Arlington Man, Police Charge, Sunk Stolen Cash in Private Business

Arthur S. Harding, thirty-one years old of No. 24 Hayes street, Arlington, cashier for Easterbrook & Company, bankers of No. 15 State street is alleged by the police to have lost $70,000 of the firm's money in personal business enterprises, notably an oil-can manufacturing company in Somerville.

The young cashier was arrested by Inspectors Frank Haggerty and George Farrell of the bank squad after a five-weeks investigation of mysterious thefts and discrepancies in the company's bank balances.

Harding is charged with theft of $70,000 in 42 counts from June 1921 until May 1924.

Police charge that Harding juggled books and statements so that members of the firm were deceived as to the actual amounts on deposit in banks. They also charge that Harding appropriated thousands in cash and then manipulated figures on the firm's books.

Personal inquiry of one of the firm members of a bank official concerning the company account led to suspicion that the firm was being mulcted and the police were called.

Harding, it is alleged, spent none of the pilfered funds in wild or luxurious living. Almost all of the cash alleged to have been stolen by him was dropped in ill-fated business enterprises, they say. Much of it went into the oil can venture in Somerville.

Arraigned before Judge Lourie in Municipal Court, Harding pleaded not guilty and was held in $25,000 for a hearing.

He is a tall fine-appearing young man, married and of good reputation in Arlington.

LYNN BABY KILLED IN VIEW OF HUNDREDS

[illegible], four years old, of No. 13, Pleasant street, Lynn, was instantly killed today, during the busy noon hour, when, in sight of hundreds of shoeworkers returning to work, he ran from the sidewalk in front of his home directly in the path of an automobile operated by Mrs. Catharine A. McInerney of No. 27 Varnum street, Lynn. Mrs. McInerney was held.

SIX DIE IN $1,000,000 FIRE AT RANGER, TEX.

Ranger, Tex., July 24.—Six persons are dead, thirteen are in a hospital, and one boy is missing as a result of a fire which today destroyed a block in the centre of the business district, with property loss estimated at more than $1,000,000.

SHENANDOAH OFF ON LONG TEST FLIGHT

Lakehurst, N. J., July 24.—The navy dirigible Shenandoah left its hangar here today for an engine test run to Binghamton, N. Y., by way of Scranton, Pa., and the Susquehanna Valley. The ship, piloted by Commander Zachary Lansdowne, will return sometime tonight.

Alcohol Seized: Men Escape Hail of Shots

North Scituate, July 24—Hidden in a pile of rocks on the grounds of the North Scituate Yacht Club, [illegible] men of the Coast Guard watched four smugglers load seventy-five cases of alcohol from a fishing smack today.

With infinite pains the smugglers rushed the cases across the yacht club grounds to an automobile in the road.

Just as the last case was stowed the watching officers rushed forth with revolvers drawn and shouted to the rum runners to surrender.

"Come and get us," shouted the leader of the four men from the smack, and started at a brisk run for the small boat on the shore.

The others followed his example, and, defying the storm of bullets sent after them, all escaped to the fishing boat, lifted anchor and put out to sea.

The coast guards, who had expected to corner the smugglers on land, were not prepared for the emergency and had no boat in which to follow.

They confiscated the alcohol and the automobile and prepared to question a prominent man suspected of being the party to whom the alcohol was consigned.

Captain John J. Glynn led the raiding party. The smack has been under suspicion for months.

Longer Operations, No Bad Effects, by New Anesthetic

Paris, July 24—A new anesthetic, which is claimed to be far superior to any hitherto employed, is being used by Dr. Fredet of the Hospital De La Nouvelle Pitie. The anesthetic is called "somnifere." In doses of ten to fifteen cubic centimeters it is injected in the veins after previous injections of morphine or [illegible].

According to the account given the French Surgical Society, the resulting anaesthesia is complete, permitting the longest and most serious operation. There is no sickness and no ill effects.

GIRL DIES, 3 INJURED; CALL DRIVER DRUNK

Little Valley, N. Y., July 24—The infant daughter of William Parker, a farmer, was killed and Parker's wife and five-year-old daughter were dangerously hurt and a seven-year-old son slightly injured, in an automobile accident. The authorities allege that Parker was driving while intoxicated.

sembling a robe she had seen in the Leopold home.

The boys, smiling, unperturbed and apparently as interested as they would be in watching a theatrical performance, observed the numerous witnesses with unemotional faces. Many times they grinned at those whose words were bringing the hangman's noose closer and closer to their necks.

Seldom did the attorneys for the boys make any objection, or even question the witnesses which the State produced in such abundance. They have already staked their case on pleading guilty to the crime and hoping for a life sentence for the pair instead of the gallows.

YOUTHS GRIN IN COURT

Both the dapper young defendants smiled and nodded to friends and acquaintances as they came into the court room. They were dressed as meticulously as usual and grinned and conversed in low whispers as the first witness took the stand.

He was Andy Russo of New York City, electrician, employed by the Pullman Company. It was Russo who discovered one of the letters written by the defendants to Jacob Franks, the father of their victim.

With consummate cunning they had notified Franks to look for such a letter in the telegraph rack in car 507 on a train leaving Chicago. It gave him directions as to how to proceed to ransom his son, who was then dead.

Russo testified that his "boss" usually placed his orders for the day in that same rack, and that it was while looking for these that he discovered the letter addressed to Jacob Franks. He turned it over to the state attorney's office.

There was no cross examination. The defense attorneys have admitted everything and Russo was soon excused.

David Barish, proprietor of the store from which Leopold and Loeb did some telephoning in the working out of the plot, was recalled to the stand and completed technical details of his testimony.

Frank B. Tuttle, clerk of the Hotel Trenier, was next called. He identified a yellow envelope containing credentials made out to "Morton D. Ballard," one of Leopold's aliases, by which he was enabled to rent the murder car. This letter came to the hotel and was turned over to the authorities.

TRACED BY GLASSES.

Sergeant George S. Homer, a police officer attached to the State attorney's office, followed. He was the officer who arrested Loeb. He merely testified to the fact and was excused.

Dr. Emil Deutsch, an oculist who prescribed glasses for Leopold, next came to the stand. It was the accidental dropping of a pair of glasses near the culvert where the body of little Bobby Franks was hidden that first directed suspicion to young Leopold.

When the glasses were found they were discovered to be of an unique make, handled only by one Chicago firm. The firm's records disclosed but three people in all Chicago who had precisely these glasses—a lady, a professional man and young Leopold. The first two were readily absolved and the chase ended with Leopold.

Mrs. Lucille Smith and her daughter, Jeanette, testified they had seen the "murder car" near the culvert on the night that Loeb and Leopold wrapped the body of young Franks in an automobile robe, took it to the culvert and jammed it headfirst into the drain. They had been to a movie show, they said, and saw the machine as they came home.

Bernhard Hunt, the night watchman, followed the Smiths. He said he was standing on the corner of Forty-ninth street and Greenwood avenue on the night of May 22, when a maroon car (Leopold's car) came by and he saw something whizz out from it, having been thrown by some one therein.

TELLS OF FINDING CHISEL

This, Crowe developed, was the chisel, wrapped in adhesive tape. It was a chisel that bashed young Franks' head in while he struggled in the back of the car, according to the confession of Leopold and Loeb.

Hunt, in a rich Irish brogue, rose in his seat and demonstrated how the person in the back of the car had thrown out the chisel. His antics caused both boys to smile and whisper between themselves.

The chisel was next viewed by Albert Hobbinger, a hardware store clerk. He said the exhibit resembled a chisel he sold to the accused youths. He also said he had sold rope to the pair.

The rope, claimed by the State to have been that with which the young victim was tied, was introduced in evidence.

TWO HURT AS BLAST SINKS NEWPORT SHIP

Newport, R. I., July 24.—Two men were injured when a boiler explosion caused the sinking of the steam lighter Gertrude in the entrance to the harbor channel today. Captain Joseph Trazes and Engineer Elmer S. Purdy, the only persons aboard, suffered cuts and burns.

SWIFT ARROW SAILS UNDER ESCORT

Repairs Rushed on Liner Boston, Which Was Rammed in Crash

Fall River, July 24.—The oil tanker Swift Arrow which rammed the liner Boston, and which has been moored to the docks of its owners, the New England Oil & Refinery Co. under a heavy guard, left today for New York under escort of a tug. Although her prow was stove in, she was able to proceed under her own power. Repairs will be made in New York.

A patch, fifteen by thirty feet and weighing 1,500 pounds, is today being fitted to the damaged port side of the steamer Boston. When the temporary repairs are completed the ship will be towed to a Boston drydock.

All that can be removed from the vessel is being transferred to lighters. A gasoline pump is keeping the engine room free of water.

World Fliers Delay Hop to Scotland

Hull, England, July 24 (I.N.S.)—Ready to start and with their nerves on edge, the American round-the-world fliers learned today they would be unable to leave England before Monday on their flight to Kirkwall, Scotland. The delay is caused by the fitting of the pontoons to their planes. "The delay is getting on our nerves," Lieutenant Lowell Smith, flight commander said today.

8 BANKERS TO FACE COURT IN CANADA

Toronto, July 24.—Eight directors and officials of the Home Bank of Canada charged with making false returns prior to the suspension of the bank last August, will face trial on September 9, it was announced today.

Crown authorities said proceedings would not be taken against A. E. Calvert, who was acting manager of the bank at the time of its suspension. T. J. Daly, president of the bank, and named in the indictment, died last June.

LYNN COUPLE KEPT SECRET NINE MONTHS

A marriage kept secret nine months was revealed today in Lynn when Mr. and Mrs. George H. Kelley of 8 Brookline street, announced the wedding on October 20, 1923, of their daughter Claire, to Joseph Lemaire, a shoe salesman, also of Lynn. They were married by the Rev. M. M. Thornburg of Stoneham. They are now on a belated honeymoon in the White Mountains.

The bride is one of the most popular girls in the city. She is a graduate of the Lynn schools and Salem Normal.

RENEW REPORTS HARRIS MAY QUIT

Rumors that United States District Attorney Robert O. Harris intends to resign were revived today when it was discovered that he had gone to Washington. While he was there he was in conference with Attorney-General Stone and Assistant Attorney-General Willebrandt. The latter is in charge of Federal prosecution of liquor law violations. After the meeting Harris told reporters in Washington that he had not been asked to resign and expected to return to his official duties after visiting his daughter for a day or two.

STEAMER MORSE IN DRYDOCK AT CAMDEN

Rockland, Me., July 24.—The Eastern Steamship Line's steamer James T. Morse, which tarried a few hours on a flat ledge off Crotch Island, at the entrance to Stonington yesterday, proceeded to Camden today.

She was hauled out for a thorough examination on the railway. The steamer appears undamaged, but the underwriters desire an examination before she re-enters service.

POLITICS---The 1924 Campaign

Senator La Follette to Wage War on Mellon Bill

Washington, July 24.—The Mellon tax plan is to be made an outstanding issue by the La Follette forces in the approaching campaign. This was decided at a conference between La Follette and his Vice-Presidential running mate, Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana.

The La Follette program will call for increasingly high taxes on large incomes with diminishing taxes on smaller incomes, re-enactment of the excess profits tax and complete publicity of all tax returns as demanded in an amendment by Senator Norris of Nebraska.

The La Follette forces believe it will be difficult for Republican House members to "stand by the President" in view of their opposition to his tax views since it is one of the cardinal principles of the Administration that the fight for the Mellon plan shall be continued.

President Plugging at His Notification Address

Washington, July 24.—With notification ceremonies for President Coolidge three weeks distant, he began work today on his address.

The immediate task is the drafting of an outline and the form of the address to be delivered here August 14, is expected to be somewhat like that of his first congressional message. Governmental economy and reduction of taxes are to be the foremost subjects treated.

ASKS LABOR,S STAND ON LA FOLLETTE

Atlanta, July 24.—The Atlanta Federation of trades adopted a motion instructing its secretary to ask the American Federation of Labor for its stand on the candidacy of Senator La Follette, says a story appearing today in the Atlanta Constitution.

This action came, the story declares, after a motion which would have put the Atlanta labor body on record as indorsing the La Follette candidacy, was ruled out of order.

L. A. COOLIDGE SEES HARD G. O. P. FIGHT

In a letter to the Women's Division of the Republican State Committee by Louis A. Coolidge, Republican candidate for the United States Senate, who was scheduled to address that body at Wareham today he told the women voters that the Republican party must fight hard if it hopes to win this year. He added that not since 1896 have the people of this country been called upon to face such vital issues as today.

BROOKHART WON'T BACK LA FOLLETTE

Des Moines, Ia., July 24.—Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Republican and candidate for reelection this Fall, announced he would not support President Coolidge or Robert M. LaFollette. "I will not speak for either candidate," he said. "I will continue to speak on the issues." Brookhart also announced he would demand that President Coolidge call an extra session of Congress to enact the McNary-Haugen Farm Aid Bill.

SUGAR KING TO HELP LA FOLLETTE

Washington, July 24.—Senator La Follette's joint executive campaign committee which will conduct his Presidential campaign, will include Rudolph Spreckles, the California banker, and Senator Frazier of North Dakota, now listed as a Republican.

Morris Hillquit of New York, who has been actively identified with the Socialist party, also was named on the committee today.

DAWES MAY START FIGHT IN MAINE

Charles G. Dawes, Vice-Presidential nominee for the Republican party, may open his campaign in Maine instead of the West as previously planned.

William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, admits that "there is particular demand for speeches by our Vice-Presidential nominee in Maine before the State elections."

ROXBURY MAN STEALS PHONE PAY STATION

Arthur Newman of Weldon street, Roxbury, appeared before Judge Dowd in Municipal Court today, charged with stealing a telephone pay station in the North Station. He was also charged with wilful destruction of property. He first pleaded not guilty, but changed this to guilty. He was sentenced to a year in the house of correction, but appealed and was held on $1,500.

RUBBER WORKERS AT STOUGHTON OUT

Stoughton, July 24.—Following a walkout of employes, the Panther Rubber Company closed its mill here today and transferred its orders to Chelsea, where it has a factory.

Last week the workers received a 14 per cent. wage cut. Yesterday they received another 6 per cent. cut. About fifty employes are affected.

DAVIS VICTORY IN MAINE VOTE FORECAST

Pattangall and Redmond Visit Democratic Presidential Nominee

Dark Harbor, Islesboro, Me., July 24 (I.N.S.)—William R. Pattangall and Fulton J. Redmond, gubernatorial and senatorial candidates, respectively, from Maine, came here today for a conference with John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential candidate, who is preparing his acceptance speech at the estate of Charles Dana Gibson, artist, at Seven Hundred Acre Island near here.

It was understood that the conferees brought data to show Maine can be won from the Republican column.

The Presidential candidate was to play for the golf championship of the island today. The event was arranged after a remark made to newspapermen by Davis that he defeated Frank L. Polk, his friend and adviser, over the course at Tarratine Links by three lost balls against six for Polk.

Bill Nye, Davis' aide de camp, poohpoohed the Davis conquest. "I've only won two games of golf in my life and both of them were from Polk," Nye said.

Included in the flood of correspondence the candidate tackled was a message from two Republicans of Everett, Mass., who had read that the candidate had said he was feeling fit enough to fight a wildcat. They wrote that a Republican wildcat from Everett was on its way.

A case of soap marked "Vote for clean government and John W. Davis" also was received.

"If I put everything into my acceptance speech requested by telegrams and letters it would be a ominous deliverance," said Davis today.

The nominee was asked whether he would state the particular brand of democracy he stood for.

"I am a Jefferson Democrat," he said, but declined to qualify his [illegible].

G.O.P. TO REVIVE 'FULL DINNER PAIL' SLOGAN

Will Be Used to Bring Out Big Vote for Coolidge

Washington, July 24. (Universal)—After conferring with President Coolidge, Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican whip, said the main problem of the Republicans in the coming Presidential campaign will be to "get out the vote."

To that end every registered Republican voter will be appealed to personally to go to the polls and vote for Coolidge and Dawes.

Furthermore the Republicans will revive the "full dinner pail" slogan of McKinley's time to emphasize the success of the present administration, according to Senator Curtis.

After a careful survey, Curtis added the Republican leaders are disposed to give La Follette and Wheeler only two States, Wisconsin and North Dakota, and hope the latter will be found in the Republican column.

Curtis asserted the main reason Progressives have been showing apparent strength in Northwestern States is that the vast majority of the voters remain at home on election day, and that the Republicans should be brought out in force this year.

Former Senator Sutherland of West Virginia expressed confidence that his State, home of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential aspirant, would cast its electoral vote for Coolidge.

Vernon L. Hague of Iowa characterized as "preposterous" the claim that Senator La Follette, had even a chance in that State and said it would be for Coolidge.

Walter F. Brown of Ohio pledged the twenty-four electorial votes of the late President Harding's home State to the Republican national candidates.

CHICK DILLON'S WIFE GIVES UP LONG BATTLE TO REFORM HIM

JAIL BREAK IS LAST STRAW

Cambridge Girl Reveals for First Time Her Attempts to Help Him Go Straight

Mrs. Anna Conley Dillon, wife of "Chick" Dillon, who was tried and acquitted in the murder of a policeman in Chelsea, and has been in police toils on many charges since, today declared she had given Chick his last chance and is through with him for good.

Dillon's latest affair is a jail-break at Dover, N. H., where he is serving time in connection with automobile thefts. Dillon engineered the break, four prisoners clubbing their way to freedom with mop handles, only to be rounded up by a posse of prison guards.

Chick Dillon

Mrs. Dillon is an attractive woman of twenty-five who married "Chick" shortly after his acquittal on the murder charge, on which he was tried jointly with Herman L. Barney. She comes from a respectable family and now lives with her parents at No. 210 Columbia road, Cambridge.

WENT INTO SECLUSION

She has been in seclusion since last Fall, when Dillon was arrested with a Fall River young woman on a bad check charge. This is the first time she has told of giving up her struggle to "make a good man of Chick."

"I did more than any other girl ever did to make a man walk the path of goodness," said Mrs. Dillon. "No fellow ever had so much help from a wife or friends as Chick did.

"I always felt that because a fellow was down it was no reason for his friends deserting him. When Chick got in trouble, I just tried harder to help him out. I told him that no matter how many of his friends left him, I would remain loyal always.

"The last straw, however, was his arrest in Fall River with another woman. Up to that time, he had apparently reformed, for a short time. He began staying away nights, without telephoning me where he was going, and then suddenly the Fall River affair came to light.

DOESN'T CARE NOW

"That was last November. I sent him word I was through with him. Another woman in his life was something I would not stand for. I don't care now what happens to him, but I would suggest that the authorities examine his mentality instead of always giving him a jail sentence."

Mrs. Dillon is in business for herself as a hair-dresser in Boston, an occupation she says she took up to help her forget the past. She talked reluctanty about her troubles with Dillon. Her friends declare that they have hardly seen her since Dillon's escapade of last November.

The quartet which broke jail in Dover beat their keeper over the head with a mopstick, locked him in a cell and, after swimming a river, looted a cottage at Green River and then made their break for freedom.

Deputy Sheriff Callahan formed an armed posse and the men were trapped in the woods. Dillon was arrested at the point of a gun.

POLICE HUNTING FOR FIREBUG IN LOWELL

Lowell, July 24.—Inspectors from the office of State Fire Marshal George C. Neal are expected in this city today to investigate a fire yesterday in a fruit store at No. 179 Broadway, endangering the lives of occupants in a tenement above.

The fire is believed by many to be another act of a firebug who has terrorized the city, three fires already having been investigated by fire inspectors within a few weeks.

Fire Chief Edward Saunders and Police Sergeant Samuel Bigelow, who investigated the blaze, declare they smelled kerosene oil on two gallon cans found in the store.

NURSE SLAYS DEFORMED BABY

Body Is Discovered in Dress Suit Case Addressed to Father

Camden, N. J., July 24 (Universal).—The sight of a new born babe condemned by twisted limbs and misshapen torso to a life of physical and mental torture so horrified Miss Elizabeth Sorber, a twenty-eight-year-old graduate nurse, that she ended the child's life by stopping its breath with her hand.

Miss Sorber made this confession to the police. Between hysterical sobs she protested that she was doing a humane act and performing a service to society.

SAVAGE QUESTIONED.

The body of the dead child—born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Savage of this city—was found in a suit case that had been checked in the Pennsylvania railroad station. An employe of Savage, who had been dispatched with the check to claim the suitcase, became suspicious, opened it and immediately reported his gruesome find to the authorities.

Savage was questioned and through him the police learned of Miss Sorber's part in the act. After being grilled for several hours she admitted everything.

SENT CHECK TO FATHER.

The child, she said, was born a week ago. The parents were almost prostrated when they saw the warped little body and almost involuntarily they prayed that it might not live. So she placed her hand on the tiny chest and with a moment's pressure had stopped its breathing.

She then placed the body in a box and carried it to her rooming house. There she transferred it to a wicker suitcase, carried the suitcase to the station and checked it.

Afterwards she sent the check to Savage.

BIG ROCKING HORSE TO BE GIVEN AWAY

The biggest rocking horse in Boston is to be given to some children's charitable institution, by public ballot, during the coming two weeks. The horse, of pure white, has a real cowhide saddle set with nickel mountings, and the leathered covered stirrups will safely hold the small feet that will rock high above the floor.

It is five feet high, measures seven feet from nose to tail tip, and sets on iron-bound rockers seven and one-half feet long. It is the gift of Frank Archer. Ballots for the voting may be obtained in the childrens' play room of the Shepard Stores. The institute that receives the most votes will receive the horse.

NEW JERSEY COURT PAROLES SLAYER

Trenton, N. J., July 24.—Although his term would not have expired until June, 1932, Anthony Russo, imprisoned for murder in June, 1917, has been granted a parole by the Court of Pardons. The fact that he has a mother and blind brother in need of support was also considered.

According to the report of physicians, Russo served both night and day at the risk of his own life in the hospital ward during the influenza epidemic. The killing for which he was sentenced occurred while he was under the influence of liquor.

FIRPO'S "TYPIST" IS SENT TO HAVANA

New York, July 24.—Miss Bianca Lourdes, who came to the United States last Monday on the steamer American Legion, which also brought Luis Angel Firpo, the boxer, sailed for Havana today on the Esperanza. Miss Loudres and Firpo were taken to Ellis Island by immigration officials who said there were irregularities in their passports. Frpo was admitted, but Miss Lourdes was informed she would have to take the next steamer to Havana, for which port she held a ticket.

U. S. GIRL BRIDE OF ITALIAN COUNT

New York, July 24.—Miss Bianca Oglesby, daughter of the late Governor Richard J. Oglesby of Illinois, was married today to Count Alessandro Cenci Bolognetti, of Rome. The religious ceremony took place in the private chapel of the famous Palazzo Cenci, renowned as the home of the ill-fated Beatrice Cenci, sixteenth-century heroine. Prince Vicovaro, head of the Cenci Bolognetti family, was one of the witnesses at the civil marriage in the Capitoline hall.

Australia Puts Check on Cattle Exports From U. S.

Washington, July 24.—The increasing American cattle exports to Australia which jumped to a total of thirteen last year, have been completely wiped out.

Because of a fear of foot and mouth disease, the Governor-General of Australia has issued a proclamation forbidding all cattle shipments from the United States.

Records reveal that one cow was shipped from the United States to Australia in 1922 and that the figure was increased to thirteen in 1923.

RICH ASTOR GIRL IS BRIDE OF NOBLEMAN

London, July 24.—Miss Alice Astor, daughter of Lady Ribblesdale and the late John Jacob Astor, was today married to Prince Obolensky.

Lady Ribblesdale and Russell H. Rhodes, American vice consul, were witnesses. No others were present.

Prince Serge Platonovitch Obolensky Neledinsky Meletsky is a descendant of one of the oldest families of Czarist Russia. His ancestors can be traced back to Rurik, founder of the Russian monarchy.

The prince has been married once before, his first wife being Princess Catherine Alexandrovna, a daughter of Czar Alexander II. In 1923 the princess obtained a divorce in London.

Miss Astor is a sister of Vincent Astor. Her parents were divorced in 1909 and Mr. Astor later married Madeline Force, while his former wife married Lord Ribblesdale. The young woman was introduced to London society about two years ago.

She became of age a year ago and at that time came into possession of the $5,000,000 trust fund created for her by her father.

The religious ceremony was celebrated in the Russian church of St. Philip, Buckingham Palace road. Prince Paul of Serbia acted as best man. Viscount Astor gave the bride away.

LYNN MAN EXPIRES UNDER ANAESTHETIC

BIRD PLUNGES CITY INTO DARKNESS

Passaic, N. J., July 24.—This city was in darkness for a half hour when a migratory crane alighting on the electric feeder wire which brings in 26,000 volts from a Jersey City power house with one foot on each of the two wires, short-circuited the system. The bird's body was found by linemen searching for the short circuit. They said they would mount their trophy as a souvenir.

ARREST 15 CHINESE IN MAH-JONG RAID

2 RESCUED BY LIFE-GUARD AT NANTASKET

Summer Resident Risks His Own Life in Effort to Save Drowning Youth

A double rescue, involving a drowning youth, a life guard and a Summer resident gave loungers on Nantasket Beach a thrill today.

Caught in the undertow, [illegible] Fields, fifteen years old, of Nantasket avenue, was carried 100 yards out from shore before his plight was realized.

Frank Templeton of Green Hill, one of those lying on the beach, was the first to sense the boy's danger and, seizing a life preserver, he swam out to him and reached him as he was going down for the second time.

Young Fields battled Templeton with the desperate strength of a drowning person. They were sinking when Life Guard Al Schofield rowed out to them and dragged rescuer and rescued into the boat.

Fields was unconscious and it required several applications of first aid treatment to restore his senses.

Templeton was cut where the boy had struck and scratched him.

Schofield is a fine swimmer and has won prizes in the dashes and the middle distance events at Nantasket this Summer. He is a Y. D. veteran.

Divorce Rate Soars in Connecticut to 1 in 10 Marriages

Washington, July 24.—Nearly one-tenth of the couples married in Connecticut get divorces, according to figures made public by the Department of Commerce. For the calendar year 1923 [illegible] marriages were performed and [illegible] divorces granted. This is a gain over the number in 1922, when there were 12,108 marriages and [illegible] divorces.

The increase in marriages reported for 1923 over 1922 is 1,151, or [illegible] per cent. The divorces reported for 1923 show an increase of 142, or 14.1 per cent. over 1922.

SO. BOSTON COUPLE ARE KILLED BY GAS

When Michael [illegible] of No. [illegible] West Ninth street, South Boston, smelled gas coming from the upper apartment in his home he became suspicious and notified the police of the Athens street station.

The officers forced the door and found the bodies of Mary [illegible], sixty-six years old and her husband, John, sixty-five years old, lying across a bed in a rear chamber. They were pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital.

According to the police the gas jet in the ceiling was wide open and the room was filled with fumes.

DRUG QUEEN TO KNOW FATE LATER

Sadie Henderson Pleads Guilty to Unlawful Possession of Narcotics

Sadie Henderson, said to be queen of a band international drug Court today to unlawful possession of narcotics.

Sadie Henderson.

Assistant United States District Attorney Sullivan asked for a prison sentence. L. A. Rogers, her counsel, held out for a fine.

Judge Lowell listened to both arguments and then withheld sentence for three months. During that period the "drug queen" will be kept under surveillance.

The woman was arrested in a raid on an apartment on Commonwealth avenue, Allston. At that time she was known as Mrs. Harry Colcord.

Cocaine and other drugs, worth in excess of $12,000, were found in the Allston apartment. While the raid was in progress, the block was surrounded by narcotic agents, who expected resistance. A man named Miller was also arrested.

Mrs. Dick Curtis Thrills Audience With Tales of African Jungle

By BETTY ALDEN

VERY much at attention was the smart audience in listening to Mrs. Dick Curtis' illustrated talk the other afternoon.

Mrs. Curtis motored down to Peacedale, R. I. which is near Narragansett Pier, to give her talk before members of the South Country Garden Club. Mrs. Rowland G. Hazard opened her country estate known as "Holly House" for the occasion, and later tea was served.

Mrs. Richard C. Curtis.

Of course, Mrs. Curtis' talk was on the travels which she made through the wilds of Africa last year with her husband. Fifty pictures were shown. All were taken by Mrs. Curtis and many of them, beautifully colored, were of African villages and wild animals.

Mrs. Curtis, who, with Mr. Curtis, is spending the Summer at Manchester-by-the-Sea, encountered many familiar faces in the group which listened to the account of her African travels. She was formerly Miss Anita Grosvenor of the prominent Providence clan of that name. The Curtis Winter home is on Marlboro street.

For the first time in quite a few seasons Newport has donned gay attire and acclaimed "On with the dance!"

And now the dwellers along the Cliffs are vying with one another in staging a series of really "swagger" affairs. Each day brings forth the announcement that yet another large ball has been added to the cards, and altogether the outlook is very promising for those whose feet respond so nimbly to the wailing of the saxophones.

Mrs. Sylvanus Stokes, Jr.
International Newsreel Photo

Among the first of Newport's dance hosts for next month will be Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Stokes, Jr., whose party at the Casino is set for August 3. Mrs. Stokes, by the way, is noted for the striking sartorial creations which she affects.

On August 9 Mr. and Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt are giving a large ball at "Oakland Farm," which is just outside Newport. A few days later—on the 14th—this young couple will have a ball given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fitz Simons at "Harbor View." Mrs. Fitz Simons is Mr. Vanderbilt's mother.

Other balls scheduled for August include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walton Goelet's affair at the Clambake Club, set for the 8th; the dance which Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Duncan are giving at "Bonnie Crest" on the 16th; Mr. and Mrs. Williams Burden's party at "Oakwood" on the 5th; while not the least jolly of all the affairs will be the ball which Mr. and Mrs. Reggy Vanderbilt are planning for the 23d at "Sandy Point Farm."

NEWPORT HOSTESS

Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt (Emily Davies), who, with Mr. Vanderbilt, is spending the week at Southampton with her mother, Mrs. Frederick M. Davies. On August 9, Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt will give a large ball at "Oakland Farm," their estate near Newport.

Society Notes

Philip Ainsworth Means and Charles Lowell Barlow of Boston were present at the dinner which Mrs. Edwards Spencer gave the other evening in Lenox at the Lenox Club. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Arthur Biddle of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Amory S. Carhart was one of the guests for whom Mrs. J. Philip Benkard gave a luncheon earlier in the week in the Japanese Garden of the Ritz-Carlton.

Miss Eloise Derby of Boston is one of the leading spirits for a benefit being held today at the Malvern Hotel in Bar Harbor, Me., where Miss Derby is spending the Summer. The affair is to benefit the restaurant for working girls in Paris called Les Cinq Pains d'Orge.

Mr. and Mrs. Alanson L. Daniels of "Old Farm," Wenham, will return shortly from a three-weeks trip to Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Cabot are at White Sulphur Springs.

EMMA GOLDMAN TO TRY ENGLAND

London, July 24.—"Red Emma" now wants to make England her native heath.

Deported from America, Emma Goldman went to Russia, where they allow good Bolsheviks to rant about as they please. But Free Russia apparently didn't suit the militant Emma and labor circles have it that Emma has sought permission from the Home Office to make her residence in England.

U. S. IN UNISON WITH BRITAIN, SAYS HUGHES

Replies to London Lord Mayor's Toast to Coolidge at Bar Banquet

London, July 24 (By A.P.)—Charles E. Hughes, American secretary of state, Ambassador Frank B. Kellogg and Sir James Atkin, lord justice of appeal, were guests of honor at a banquet at the Guildhall for members of the American and Canadian bar associations.

The lord mayor presided and proposed a toast to President Coolidge.

The lord mayor said they were greatly pleased that the occasion enabled them to pay a just tribute of respect and regard to the first citizen of the great republic across the Atlantic, whose power and influence had never been greater than they were at this moment and whose friendship Great Britain was happily privileged to possess in an unstinted degree.

Viscount Haldane, lord chancellor, proposing the toast, "The American Bar," said it was a happy inspiration for the lord mayor to invite their American visitors to a banquet, for not only did it coincide with a great international event, but it demonstrated the solidarity of three great peoples, all of whom ardently desired the peace of the world.

In replying, Secretary Hughes remarked that some of them might be regarded as discovering England, but, in truth, they from America were discovering themselves. They had found an unbroken unity—a sense of unity that will be lasting.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes had luncheon with King George and Queen Mary in Buckingham palace.

Today the American secretary of state with 3,000 American and Canadian lawyers was to attend a garden party at the palace.

Mercy Is Asked for Convicted Apache by Millionaire

Paris, July 24.—Albert R. Shattuck, 71-year-old millionaire, who spent a fortune in tracking down four Paris Apaches in revenge for a crime against his wife and himself which almost cost their lives, now seeks to temper justice with mercy.

Gabriel Alphonse Mourey, leader of the gang which locked Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck and eight servants in an unventilated wine vault of the Shattuck home in New York and then stole $80,000 in jewelry, was convicted here principally on Shattuck's testimony, and sentenced to die.

Shattuck has asked that the bandit's sentence be commuted to imprisonment.

NEWPORT GEM THEFTS PUT AT $60,000

Arrest, Believed Near in Marsden J. Perry Case, Expected to Startle the Colony

Newport, R. I., July 24.—Bleak House Villa, the Summer home of the Marsden J. Perrys of Providence, is the centre of mysterious activity this week.

Mrs. M. J. Perry

In the other great houses, both above stairs and below, they are saying that this activity heralds an arrest in connection with the burglary of the villa a few weeks ago, when diamonds, laces and silver worth many thousands of dollars were taken.

At the time of the burglary the police said the loss was $20,000. Now it is understood that it was nearer $60,000.

Even more than her jewels, Mrs. Perry misses rare laces she had bought on continental tours or had made for her by lace workers in Ireland, Holland and Spain.

The Perrys are here most of the time and official-looking gentlemen are in constant conferences with them.

It is hinted that when an arrest is made it will astonish owners of other great Summer houses, who have fortunes in gems and silver.

REPORT VATICAN BASILICA IN NO DANGER

Committee Announces Repairs Can Be Postponed Till After the Holy Year

Rome, July 24 (A. P.)—The committee entrusted with the preservation of the Vatican Basilica today announced, apropos of the observations of an American architect in connection with necessary repairs, that the ravages of time in the historic edifice presented no danger and that repairs could be postponed until after the holy year.

Cardinal Merry del Val, arch-priest of St. Peter's is following the observations of the condition of the Vatican made by the technical bureau of the Holy See which included four architects who are constantly watching the edifice.

After the holy year, the question of repairs will be submitted to an internation commission not because Italian architects are not considered competent but because the Basilica is considered a world monument and the entire world is interested in its preservation.

"To show that there is no imminent danger," the announcement declares, "it is enough to state that bits of paper pasted over the cracks in the walls and dome centuries ago to determine whether they were widening, are still unbroken.

"Two centuries ago similar alarming reports were circulated to such an extent that the faithful abstained from entering the Basilica."

ASKS FACTS ON CUBAN ATTACKS ON BRITONS

London, July 24.—The question of alleged ill-treatment and slaying of British subjects in Cuba was raised in the House of Commons today by a member who asked whether the guilty persons had been punished and whether steps had been taken to impress upon the Cuban authorities the grave concern on the subject of British Government.

Arthur Ponsonby, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said that one Cuban, accused of the murder of a British West Indian subject, had been acquitted on the ground of self-defense and that another, acquitted on a charge of murder, had been sentenced to one year's imprisonment on an assault charge.

APPEALS JAIL TERM FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

John E. Johnson of Dover street, West Somerville, was sentenced to thirty days by Judge Sturtevant in Somerville Court today for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $10 for drunkenness. Johnson appealed. Johnson was arrested after his automobile was in collision with one operated by William A. Little of Medford street, Somerville.

COUPLE SEIZED AFTER SKELETON IS FOUND

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 24.—W. H. Bennett, of Rome, Ga., and his wife were arrested today as a result of the discovery under a house here by workmen of a grave containing the skeleton of an aged woman. Police say that an aged aunt of Bennett, Miss Augusta Hoffman, disappeared in 1915.

SAVE GIRL WHO TIED SELF IN BURNING HOME

Young Woman Near Death as She Fakes Robbery to Escape Debts

Syracuse, N. Y., July 24.—Forced by pressing debts and hoping [illegible] to collect insurance on her damaged apartment and goods, Miss Frances Stabb set fire to her home and to lend color to her story of burglars bound and gagged herself and awaited the coming of firemen.

The fire, however, threatened to become more serious than she planned and, seized with panic, Miss Stabb attempted to undo the ropes she had tied. These only became tightened by her struggles and the helpless woman was faced with possible death in the fire she had started.

In the course of her struggles a roomer in her apartment was awakened and rescued her as flames were shooting through the house. Other occupants of the building escaped by ladders and scantily clothed.

To the police Miss Stabb told a thrilling story of waking to find two burglars at her bedside, of being bound and gagged and of watching her rooms ransacked with a loss of some forty dollars.

PARIS SAYS SIKI ALREADY HAS WIFE THERE

Battling Senegalese's Marriage to White Girl Here May Stir Up Trouble

New York, July 24 (I.N.S.)—Battling Siki, Senegalese pugilist, today seemed to have stirred up a hornet's nest for himself in marrying Lillian Werner, a white woman seven years his senior.

The marriage was performed at the city clerk's office and in obtaining his license Siki swore it was his first marriage.

According to reports from Paris, Siki not only has a wife there, but a two-year-old child as well. He formerly contributed to her support, Paris reports said.

Siki, however, still contends he was a single man until yesterday. He spent his honeymoon in a gymnasium practicing for a bout tomorrow night.

NEED OF GUARD IS SHOWN BY DROWNING

The channel which skirts the bathing beaches in South Boston has claimed another little victim.

Like John Paul Fa[illegible], nine years old, who drowned two weeks ago, ten-year-old Antonio Brunzetti, while wading in a few feet of water, stepped off into the channel and was drowned.

When the water is low the treacherous channel is but a few yards from the water's edge. The only warnings for the children and grown-ups who come from the city and don't know the beach well are large white barrels strung about a tenth of a mile apart, stretching in a chain the length of Carson Beach.

Two hours after the boy was drowned, Miss Ellen Doherty of St. Germain street, Back Bay, went down in the channel and was saved by lifeguards Charles McCarthy and Bert LaCorn. Her cries attracted McCarthy. LaCorn dove for her and both carried her in.

SUGGEST PROTECTION.

Bathers who saw something of the tragedy that resulted in little Tony's death have suggested better markings for the channel's edge. Other beaches, they point out, have strings of white canvas floats placed very close together, to warn bathers and swimmers. A safety net has also been suggested.

The beach bottom is muddy and children very easily slide off of safe ground into water far over their heads.

The Brunzetti boy's body was recovered from seven feet of water. He was in wading with his mother when he suddenly dropped from sight. His mother was overcome with fear and could not move, and it was a long time before help arrived.

The drowning also proves the need of additional lifeguards, already pointed out in the American. The two guards on duty at the beach are required to spend their time patrolling in front of the bathhouse. The beach stretches for more than a mile from this spot.

YELL—AND YELL LOUD

In the drowning of the Brunzetti boy, Maurice Duncan, superintendent of the bathhouse at Carson Beach, points a lesson to other bathers. He says:

"Let every bather remember that when someone goes down, all who see it should shout and then other swimmers will rush to help. And someone must keep his eyes glued on the spot, for one dive will get the body up if we know just where it is. Lives are saved that way."

Along with City Life Guards George Cudahy, Walter Byrnes and John Holland, a Boston American volunteer, Leo C. Driscoll of Dorchester, aided in resuscitation, but the boy had been in the water too long.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED

Captain Jack Wallace of the Red Cross, who is instructing the Boston American volunteers, today announced that more volunteers are wanted for the South Boston and Dorchester beaches. He has obtained the services of Arthur B. Falkson, captain of the Boston University Red Cross lifesaving corps, to handle volunteers at City Point. You can single out Falkson there by his Red Cross emblem, beginning next Tuesday.

Captain Wallace himself will visit the intown beaches, beginning soon, and will also work with new volunteers at some of the outlying beaches.

IRISH REPUBLICAN VETERANS TO MEET

The Irish republican army veterans of Massachusetts will hold a celebration in Hibernian Hall, Dudley street, Roxbury, tomorrow evening, in honor of the liberation of ex-President Eamon DeValera. Among the speakers will be General Sean Moylan, Captain Owen Moore and General James P. Sullivan.

Fire-Damaged Liner Safe

New York, July 24.—The German steamer Prometheus from Hamburg for Baton Rouge, La., which reported by wireless July 14 that fire had broken out in the after hold when 260 miles east of Bermuda, was towed into the harbor today.

$20,000,000 LOOT CHARGED IN SHIP SUIT

New York, July 24 (I.N.S.)—In a suit on file today in the United States Court the Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies Steamship Lines stand charged of deliberately looting the New York & Cuba Mail Steamship Co., operators of the Ward Line, and making it insolvent.

Francis G. Caffey, receiver of the Ward Line, filed the suit, which seeks restitution of approximately $20,000,000 which he charges was diverted unlawfully from the earnings of the now bankrupt concern.

According to the complaint, from 1915 to 1918 the New York & Cuba Mail concern paid $10,200,000 dividends of which the A. G. W. I. Company received more than 99 per cent. Among other items listed in the complaint is a $3,000,000 dividend paid by the Ward line December 19, 1917, which, it is alleged, was unlawfully paid to the A. G. W. I.

An accounting is asked by the A. G. W. I. of its transactions involving the properties of the New York & Cuba, and release from lien of the steamships Orizaba, Siboney and Wacouta (now Yucatan) and the nullification of many transactions involving the sale and mortgage of the property of the New York & Cuba.

COLLUSION HINT IN $500,000 GEM THEFT

Wilda Bennett, a Broadway Star, Says Robbers Had Keys to the House

New York, July 24—Hints of collusion in the robbery at the home of Mrs. Charlotte K. Palmer were aired in the county clerk's office today.

At the time of the robbery, Mrs. Palmer and her servants in her luxurious home were bound and gagged and the thieves carried away half a million dollars' worth of jewelry.

Wilda Bennett, Broadway musical comedy star, made the direct charge today that the robbers, when they entered the Palmer home in November, 1920, were not obliged to break into the house but entered quietly by means of keys.

6 INJURED AS TROLLEY CAR HITS AUTO

Roxbury Family Cut by Glass in South Boston Accident

Six persons were cut and badly shaken up when the touring car in which they were riding was struck in the rear by a City Point electric car and badly smashed.

The injured are Charles A. Chapin, No. 813 Columbus avenue, Roxbury, face cut by glass and left arm slightly crushed; Catherine Chapin, 38, No. 813 Columbus avenue, cut about the face by glass; Vera Chapin, eight years old, No. 813 Columbus avenue, badly shaken up, Mary Moran and her son Walter, of No. 187 Westville street, Dorchester, cut by glass, and Alice Hickey, 45, of No. 344 Dorchester street, South Boston, right forearm badly cut and cut about the face.

All the injured persons were taken to the City Hospital in passing automobiles, where they were held for treatment.

The touring car was owned and operated by Chapin. He told the police that he was travelling south on Dorchester street and just as he reached Middle street the auto was struck in the rear and hurled across the street, stopping when it hit a telegraph pole.

CAR DRIVER WAS HONEY DARLING TO COUNTESS

Sister of Thaw Wanted to "Steal" Him and Went on "Water Wagon"

New York, July 24.—Margaret Thaw Carnegie, Countess de Perigney, sister of Harry K. Thaw, begged Emmanuel Victor Modica, her married chauffeur of Newark, to divorce Mrs. Modica and marry her, according to affidavit submitted by Modica's counsel to Supreme Court Justice Benedict in Brooklyn.

Love letters, beginning "Honey Darling" and "My Dear Mannie" and signed "Lovingly, Margaret," were introduced in evidence as being written by the Countess to the chauffeur.

[illegible] Modica

Countess Perigney

Modica is suing his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luis D. Martino of East 23d st., for $50,000 for alienation of his wife's affections.

Mrs. Modica has filed an alienation suit for $600,000 against the Countess de Perigney, who lives at the Plaza.

In his latest affidavit, dated Feb. 15, 1924, Modica wrote:

"I told Mrs. Carnegie all about the disagreements I had with my wife and warned her that my wife knew the automobile was registered in her name.

"She told me that I ought to see a lawyer and see if I could get a divorce and that we could get married. She always fixed the time in which we could get married at two years."

The love letters purporting to have been written by the Countess to Modica included:

"Darling, honey, I don't know how long I can stick it out here, but keep on writing until I telegraph I am leaving. I hate to think of you going without the Cadillac, and I think I was a pig to take it away. Do not let your many friends impose on you and use your home as a roadhouse. You will get all tired out. Must go to town to lunch now. I won't forget you. Sometimes I wish I could. Lots of love. Margaret."

"Pittsburgh, June 20, 1923.

"Honey Dear: Spent about two hours with my attorney going over our affairs, and today take in my cousin's wedding and off tonight on the 9 p. m. train. I have done all I came to do, but that's all I can say for it.

"I have been on the water wagon since I left the Plaza; am sure you have no such record.

"Lots of Love. Margaret."

"Aug. [illegible]

"Manny, Darling: Remember, dear, you can write more letters than you have typewritten envelopes for. Don't let those envelopes I gave you cramp your style. We had lots of good times, hadn't we, dear? Perhaps there are many more in store. I hope so. Ever lovingly, Margaret."

From the steamer Juanita, July 23, 1923, the Countess is alleged to have written:

"My dear Mannie—Homeward bound, as you can see by the letter head. Have you been sick, or away from home, or forgotten me? I got exactly two letters from you since I left you at the garage on 62nd st. two weeks ago. I sent you a wireless asking you to telephone me Friday noon. It will be good to hear your voice again. I can hear your long drawn out h-e-l-l-o.

"I am not sure when this letter will be mailed, but it will be the last you will get from me until you hear my voice at the Plaza phone. I shall be glad to be back once more with you and Friquet. May you both be equally glad to see me. Yours lovingly. Margaret."

ENGINEMEN REFUSE TO TESTIFY TO BOARD

Chicago, July 24.—Railroad brotherhood representatives today declined to testify in the dispute with Western [illegible] before the Railroad Labor Board concerning [illegible] of the engineers and firemen, on the ground that the board was acting illegally in attempting to hold the hearing.

Donald Richberg, counsel for the brotherhoods, submitted a statement outlining the decision [illegible] to the board's order to testify.

Dr. Mahoney Asks for Help of the Public

In connection with the drive on unclean soda fountains and adulterated soft drinks and ice cream, Dr. F. X. Mahoney today issued the following appeal to the public:

"Help the authorities. Demand cleanliness in places where you have your ice cream or your soda. See that you get it.

"These conditions should enlist the support of every man, woman and child who patronizes a fountain. Sanitary conditions in such places are much better than they were years ago, and the present laws are adequate to cope with any condition that may exist, but it devolves upon every member of society to cooperate with us.

Dr. Mahoney.

"Don't stand at a respectful distance from a soda fountain and reach gracefully for the drink on the marble counter. Rub elbows with it and if necessary lean over and look inside.

"If the sink is full of stagnant, dirty water or the automatic tumbler water visibly dirty, it is reasonably certain your glass will not be clean. Refuse to be served. Watch the movements of the dispenser. See if his hands are clean. Watch the ice cream scoop. See if it is clean.

"Look into the receptacle from which he takes it. If it is full of cold, cloudy water, possibly with scum on the surface, make known your objection and refuse to be served.

"Any dirty place, especially in warm weather, invites invisible germs that find it an ideal breeding place.

"Patronizing a dirty place, you run the risk of taking into your system germs that may cause serious illness. Verdigris is another menace.

"The Health Department will continue its vigilance, but the public must do its share."

AMAZED OVER SODA FOUNTAIN CONDITIONS

Agents of the Board of Health Find Mice in the Ice Cream Cones

How would you like to eat ice cream cones among which mice had burrowed and made their nests?

It is useless to shudder and say "shocking." Maybe you already have, for flagrantly careless methods of packing and storing cones have been found in some stores by agents of the pure food division of the Boston Board of Health.

In one store in the West End 20,000 cones were found stored in packing cases. When the cases were disturbed mice ran out.

Without waiting for argument, the inspector destroyed the cones and ordered that in future cones be kept clean and free from infection.

That is one of several conditions discovered in the Board of Health drive for cleaner soda fountains and purer ice cream and soft drinks.

Some discoveries have amazed even the inspectors, inured by years in the service to negligence on the part of some ice cream and soda vendors.

LIFE AND DEATH.

It is not a mere matter of fastidiousness, but sometimes a matter of life and death.

Not long ago two army surgeons made a thorough study of dishwashing and found that careless or insufficient cleansing of dishes or glasses may cause colds, sore throat, influenza, pneumonia and worse.

One of the commonest offenses on the part of soda fountain men is failure to wash glasses thoroughly.

Many, of course, sterilize the glasses daily, and wash them thoroughly and dry them well after each using. But others have not hot water. Some have it, but neglect to use it at all times.

The report of the army surgeons showed that the germs responsible for a certain form of blood poisoning may remain alive for five or six days on glasses that have not been properly cleansed.

Dr. F. X. Mahoney, Boston Health Commissioner, is putting an end to the use of glasses washed only in cold water. Proprietors of such stores have been instructed to install hot water facilities. If they cannot afford that, they are compelled to use individual drinking cups.

BEHIND THE SCENES.

In some drugstores amazing inconsistencies have been uncovered. Some seem to have an ambition to have the front of the house tidy enough to eat on and the rear of the place—which the public rarely sees—as filthy as it can be.

Such a store was found in the South End. The tables were marble topped and polished until they shone. But behind the soda fountain a filthy floor, the runway between the fountain and the back bar gave off a vile odor. Underneath the fountain was refuse, decayed fruit, crushed eggshells.

In the syrup jars from which the flavoring was poured the inspector found verdigris. The porcelain jars containing the flavoring were caked with dirt. Ice cream cans were filthy.

These conditions are being corrected. But it will take a long time. Dr. Mahoney is appealing to the public today for popular support of his crusade.

If those who are careless or criminally negligent do not take a hint, they will get something more substantial as the campaign continues. A summons to court, for instance.

TUNA PRICES CUT; FISHERMEN STRIKE

San Diego, Cal., July 24.—Fifteen hundred fishing boats are tied up here and at San Pedro today and more than 2,000 cannery employes are out of work as a result of a strike of fishermen in protest against a reduction in the price paid by canneries for tuna fish. The price recently paid to fishermen has been $240 a ton. This was cut to $120, representatives of the men said. In San Pedro the price is said to have been cut from $220 a ton to $150.

BRIDE CONFESSES RIVAL WON HER ON WEDDING EVE

SOME OF THE INFANTS DESERTED BY THEIR MOTHERS IN BAY STATE CITIES

SHE FELL IN LOVE AND LOST HUSBAND

"Stolen Honeymoon" at Copley-Plaza Shatters Dreyfus Romance

A honeymoon at the Copley-Plaza is likely to cost Mrs. Aurelia Dreyfus of New York her wealthy husband.

On the guest book of the hotel she and her husband's "rival" registered as "Mr. and Mrs. McBrian of New York." That was on December 23 last.

They did not leave until January 8, and in the meantime John J. Sheeran, a bellboy with a photographic eye, waited on them frequently in their room.

It is the claim of Herbert M. Dreyfus, wealthy promoter and still the husband of Aurelia, that the man on the stolen honeymoon was E. J. McBrian of New York and points South and West.

In his suit for divorce, brought before Referee Koenig in New York, young Sheeran was a star witness against the bride.

He testified that "Mr. and Mrs. McBrian" were an affectionate couple, and everybody understood they were honeymooning.

"ONE WONDERFUL WEEK."

"Was the bridegroom this man here?" asked counsel for Dreyfus, pointing at his client.

"Far different," said the bellboy, sadly. He added that Mr. McBrian was a pleasant fellow and tipped liberally.

Mr. Dreyfus informed the court that his wife was exotic and subject to sudden impulse and that McBrian was one of her impulses.

He said that when they first were married, he worshipped her and would no sooner have doubted her than he would have doubted the integrity of his mother. But, he added, when his lawyer brought him incontrovertible proof of the Copley-Plaza honeymoon, three months after his marriage, he was compelled to act.

When Mrs. Dreyfus returned to him, he said, he charged her with her perfidy, and at first she denied it. Then she lost her temper, he said, and made the following declaration:

"I fell in love with him on the eve of my marriage to you. And we found a way to be together, even if only for one wonderful week. I never should have married you."

MARRIAGE A MISTAKE.

Through a check that Mrs. Dreyfus had drawn to McBrian in Boston, which was returnable to her bank with McBrian's indorsement, she was traced by Arthur Garfield Hays, present attorney to her husband and long a personal friend of Mrs. Dreyfus.

Hays summoned Mrs. Dreyfus to his office after she had returned to her husband and said:

"Chuck, where have you been these past weeks?"

Mrs. Dreyfus answered, according to testimony:

"Why should I answer that question? I think I should be permitted to do as I please."

70,000 Workers Win Overtime Fight

Chicago, July 24.—More than 70,000 railway express workers were granted pay equal to time-and-a-half for all overtime work after eight hours, in a decision handed down by the United States Railroad Labor Board. The order, directed against the American Railway Express Company, becomes effective August 1, 1924.

ACCUSED OF STEALING TOOLS

Charles Hale, alias Vail, alias Davis, appeared before Judge Dowd of the Municipal Court, charged with the larceny of tools valued at $100 and miscellaneous articles. The case was continued one week. He was arrested by Officers O'Neil, Holmes and Butler, who said Hale was acting suspiciously on Green street, West End. When questioned he said he was going to a pawnshop. The pawnbroker denied this.

WAIFS GIVE BAY STATE PROBLEM

Suppression of Mother Love Is Contrary to Human Nature

"Abandoned babies."

Some time, perhaps in the near future, from an inspired mind will come a gripping story full of heart-throbs and containing a great sermon of parental love.

It will be written of babies and of mothers.

It will have an especial appeal for young mothers. It will bring pangs of remose and pain to some; will instill greater love and fearlessness and faith in God in others.

"ABANDONED BABIES."

That will be the title of this story to today, and, because of its having been written, thousands of innocent cherubs, yet unborn, will have a full chance in life; will grow to manhood and womanhood in the loving care and keeping of their parents.

This story of abandoned babies may not explain the great secret of why mothers desert their newborn babes—why they dress the little innocents in swaddling clothes and leave them to the care of whoever may find them.

LESSON TO MOTHERS.

It may not reveal the identities of these heartless and shrinking mothers; certainly it will not spare them from the rebukes due them.

What it is written to accomplish is diminishing of the number of child abandonments by bringing full realization of the beauty and duty of motherhood—of its responsibilities and of the sure punishment to those who shrink from the care of their offspring.

Hundreds of babies are abandoned by mothers in Boston and Massachusetts each year. The annual totals have grown to appalling figures.

Experts in sociology are unable to solve the problem.

CAN'T LOCATE MOTHERS

Police, even today, are searching for the mothers of two infants abandoned in Somerville and Hingham during the past week-end.

A well-dressed baby was found in a pew in St. [illegible] Church in Somerville. A religious medal was attached to a ribbon encircling the child's neck.

In Hingham a [illegible] child was found on the [illegible] to the railroad depot. Two young women were seen leaving a [illegible] near the station just before the baby was found. They drove away in an expensive red sedan automobile.

Neither child was more than a week old.

IS IT A FAIR START?

Deserted babies have been found in all conceivable coverings, in papers, in blankets, in motor robes and in suitcases. They have been hidden on doorsteps, in churches, railroad depots, in hotels, in doorways of the business sections, in country lanes and city streets.

In a majority of cases where the mothers of the babies are not located the little ones are placed by the State in infant asylums and other institutions.

AND WHAT OF FATHERS?

Later many of them are adopted into good families. Many a grown man and woman today has been finely reared in such homes.

Others have fared not so well.

But what of mothers?

Some have been located and arrested. Others have regretted their heartless abandonments and have endeavored to find their lost ones.

Others, totally oblivious of the fate of their children—and they are happily in the minority—go their way unmindful of what the fates have in store for the poor little babes.

Canadian R. R. Head Seeking to Divert Emigrant Danes

Copenhagen, July 24.—President Edward W. Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway and his European manager, Sir George McLaren Brown, arrived today to confer with authorities about obtaining for Canada emigrants hitherto going to the United States.

It is understood Beatty has been empowered to offer special facilities and free farm land in Canada to Danish settlers.

GYPSY WIFE CURSED BY TRIBE

Twice-Sold Bride of 15 Fears Death Because of Vow of Vengeance

Annie Butch, fourteen-year-old Salem girl, was reported on her way home today in the custody of her father, returning from a Gypsy camp near New York city, where he found her the "broomstick ceremony" bride of a Romany for the second time within a year.

The girl, according to reports from New York, feared for her life. Her discarded latest husband, Steve Stokes, himself only fifteen years old although a leader of his tribe, having vowed vengeance on her for her desertion.

Annie was located in the woods near Pelham Bay Park by the police detectives to whom her father, Ephraim Butch, a Salem garage owner, had appealed. Butch himself is said to be a Gypsy and at the camp he was accused of having sold his daughter for $[illegible] to young Stokes and of reneging on his bargain.

FIRST PRICE HIGHER.

Stokes' kin also told the detectives that once before Annie had been made a Gypsy bride by jumping over a broomstick in a camp near Philadelphia. At that time Annie had fetched a higher price and as on this occasion, they said, the father had gone back on his agreement and secured possession of the girl. Antone Soldad was the groom on that occasion.

When the young Gypsy girl disappeared from the Baltimore camp the story became known that previously she had been married to a Gypsy boy of her own choice, a lad who was a member of a band of Gypsies that were camping near Philadelphia.

Ephraim Butch, alleged to have sold his daughter Annie to be the wife of a Gypsy, is well known in Salem.

A reporter found the girl's mother, Mrs. Mary Butch, in a camp in the Lynn-Salem woods today. The woman is ruler of the camp. She is middle aged, commonplace and determined.

"We did not sell our little girl. We would not sell her," she declared. "Annie went to visit that Stokes crowd of gipsies after she had been visiting her father at Rye, N. Y., where he is a fortune teller.

"Some time ago she got word to [illegible] is that she was never annoyed. My husband went to get her back and was beaten. He [illegible] she would be free to [illegible] $2,500.

"At no time did we [illegible] a cent. I [illegible] that [illegible]. But, in respect of the [illegible] and ceremonies in the world, she never will go back to the [illegible]."

Mrs. Butch expects her husband and daughter home Saturday.

Husband's Losses at Golf Cause Wife's Separation Suit

Chicago, July 24.—Edwin L. Henderson, son of William J. Henderson, capitalist, is an enthusiastic but inexpert golfer, his wife asserted today in a suit for separate maintenance, adding that his income was $1,000 a month.

She declared he has been unable to support her because his losses at golf on sunshiny days and bets on rainy days amount to $75 to $200 a day. She asked that she be given a fixed sum for maintenance.

10 DEAD, 10 HURT WHEN TRAIN HITS TRUCK

Oak Harbor, O., July 24.—Investigation into the cause of a grade crossing accident here which took a death toll of ten and injured ten more was under way here today.

The ten persons were killed instantly when a New York Central passenger train crashed into the automobile truck loaded with children returning from a picnic.

Seven of the dead were high school children from Alton, a farm town fifty miles southeast of here. All of the injured are children in their early teens. The dead:

William Spangler, forty years old, of Willard, O., the driver.

Mrs. Emma L. Cook, forty-five years old.

Mrs. Mabel Wolf, twenty-six years old.

Ferest Croninger, seventeen years old.

Vida Croninger, his sister, fifteen years old.

Olea Pratt, fifteen years old.

Myton Schaaf, fifteen years old.

Melvin Hoffman, fourteen years old.

Elsie Ohls, fifteen years old.

Geraldine Schmidt, thirteen years old.

The children [illegible] of the [illegible] the day on [illegible] and were returning [illegible].

Men's California Bathing Suits

Made to meet all-year-round requirements on the Pacific Coast

CALIFORNIA boasts—and, in some instances certainly, it makes its boasting good with unusual performance. Out there sea bathing is an all-year-round sport—a fact which has inspired the bathing-suit makers to create garments which excel in sturdiness and style. Every one swims—and these are essentially swimming suits, cut for freedom of movement and muscular trimness of appearance. A clever method of weaving eliminates stretching in length and provides an elasticity in width which hugs the body with comfortable pressure. We feel that at this moment California produces the best bathing suits to be had and we therefore have gone to California for yours—it has arrived.

"Knit-to-Fit" Suit with a patented California feature—allows extra stretch in the back when you bend over—the very latest improvement in construction.

Swimming Belts in club colors—water-resisting, can be made any length—patented buckles cannot come unsnapped in the water.

SOX CAN PERCH IN 6TH PLACE BY BEATING INDIANS TODAY

FOHLMEN GO WEST TONIGHT

By NICK FLATLEY

Sixth place is waiting for the Red Sox this afternoon. They can scramble up above the Cleveland Indians if they win the ball game, and the chance to go up after all their recent tumbling should spur them to heroic efforts.

Half a game separates the two clubs now, and while it doesn't mean much, a slight advance in the standing will help the fans to forget first two dreadful weeks of July. If the Sox collect their third straight today, they will rank as follows as regards the Indians:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Red Sox	41	50	.451
Indians	41	51	.446

This is just another of the sudden changes that have marked a dizzy baseball season. Only a few days ago everybody was figuring how long it would take the Athletics to climb out of the cellar and let the Fenway flock anchor there. Now the Macks are almost dislodged again.

SOX GO WEST TONIGHT.

The Sox end an unhappy home stand today. After the game they take their grips and go out into the West, where they may cause some commotion if they keep hitting the way they did yesterday. They smote a flock of Cleveland hurlers for some twenty blows and won a wild but exciting pastime, 16 to 12.

Sounds like the muscular days of a football score, but it really happened. Ike Boone, who is getting his natural swing into action once more, led the native assault, cracking off a pair of doubles and single. One of the two-base blows came with the corners loaded, showing that the huge Ike is getting normal again.

BURNS HITS 2 HOMERS

George Burns, [illegible] slugger, was the real bludgeon champion of the pitching massacre. He connected for a pair of homers, one over the left field [illegible], the other to the flagpole, and added a pair of doubles for luck. One of these came within a few feet of clearing the barrier to the scoreboard.

The Sox have let out one more of their recruits, Ruffing going to the Dover Club of the Delaware League. Jiggs Donohue, who used to be a Brave and a pupil at St. Johns Prep.

Moe and Joe They Get the Dough---Sometimes

Moe scared another one out yesterday. When the owners see that Moe picks one of their horses they become afflicted with the hives and scratch. He had Reprisal for a real gatherer but when he arrived at the track the gander was withdrawn. However, the bankroll suffered no injury and he is going to flop on one today that can win with tiny Tom Butterfly tied to his off hind leg.

IT GIVES ME GREAT PLEASURE TO EXTEND TO YOU THE FREEDOM OF THE CITY OF SOMETOWN!
THANK, MAYOR! IF YOU WANT SOME EXTRA CHANGE SOCK YOUR ROLL ON LUCKY PLAY IN THE FOURTH—I'VE GOT SLUGS ON IT MY-SELF.

JIM MALONEY IS TO BATTLE LARSEN

By JACK CONWAY.

JIM MALONEY, South Boston heavyweight, and Wolf Larsen, rugged Norseman, today affix their John Hancocks to articles of agreement for a ten-round bout to be staged at the Suffolk A. A. show at Braves Field on next Tuesday night. The affair will be the semi-final to the Johnny Wilson-Jock Malone middleweight tussle.

Maloney and Larsen didn't sign for their frolic until after the match had been called to the attention of the Boxing Commission. The Commercial Club filed a claim for Larsen's services. It stated that at the time Larsen was booked to mingle with Hambone Kelly that Frank Shannon, his manager, also gave the Commercial Club an option on his services for two more contests.

Just when it appeared as if the Maloney-Larsen mill would have to be scratched from the Braves Field bill, Colonel Robert McKirdy stepped into the picture and as the representative of the Commercial Club waived his claim to Larsen's services.

"I want to do my bit to restore harmony to the boxing game," said Robert as he departed from the office of the Boxing Commission in the general direction of Winthrop.

THE promoters of the Angelo Taramaschi-Stanley Stasiak wrestling bout at the Revere Cycle Track on a week from tonight today completed their preliminary card. There will be three prelims, all one fall to a finish. The semi-final will feature Frank Yusko, Lithuanian champion, against Tiger Pinkham. Frank Dellamano, Italian light-heavyweight, will tackle Emanuel Sousa, Portuguese grappler, while Nick Karavas, Greek favorite, will collide with Tommy Record, New England champion.

Taramaschi and Stasiak are both training at local camps and appear to be in good condition.

U. S. YACHTSMEN LEADING IN SERIES

Marblehead, July 24.—By winning first and third places in a close tussle the American yachting team made it impossible for the Canadian skippers to do better than tie them in the five-race series, the last two events of which will be decided today. The score now stands: Eastern Yacht Club (United States) 21; Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto 18.

Captain Caleb Loring (U. S.), winner of second place in the race this morning, was first in the afternoon, 2 minutes ahead of Captain Wade (Canadian). Captain Benson (U. S.), winner of the forenoon event, was third this afternoon, and Captain Wade (Canadian) was fourth. The races were held over an eight-mile course, with the skippers changing the boats, small "S" class craft, after each.

It will be necessary for the Canadian captains to win first and second places in both the remaining races to tie the score.

EAGLE RELAY RECORD IS ACCEPTED

Paris, July 24.—The Congress of the International Amateur Athletic Federation today announced its acceptance of five world's records. The acceptance is in addition to the approval recently granted seven records made during the Olympic games.

Four of the new marks are credited to Americans. They are 23 1-5s for the 220-yard low hurdles, made by Charles Brookins, Iowa, June 2, 1923, and three relay records, 440 yards by the University of Illinois, 42 2-5s., made April 28, 1923; two miles made by Boston College, 7m. 47 2-5s., April 26, 1924, and four miles by the Illinois Athletic Club, 17m. 21 2-5s, made June 23, 1923.

The fifth record is credited to Albin Stenroos of Finland, the Olympic marathon king, who Sept. 9, 1923, ran 20,000 meters in Finland in 1h. 7m. 11 4-5s.

Besides these records, Cyril Coaffee of Canada is credited with equalling the world's 100-yard record of 9 3-5s. in Canada, Aug. 12, 1922, thus placing his name alongside those of Kelly, Drew and Paddock, the American sprinters, in the record books.

F. W. Rubien of New York, secretary of the A. A. U. and the Olympic committee, who has been replaced on the Federation Council by W. C. Prout of Boston, president of the A. A. U., has been given membership on the federation's rules committee.

PRINCEMERE VICTOR OVER DEDHAM IN POLO

Wenham, July 24.—In the presence of a large gathering of lovers of polo Princemere polo team defeated Dedham on Princemere Field, the estate of Frederick S. Prince, 15 to 10. Dedham was given a handicap of eight goals.

Harry East proved a star for Princemere. His horsemanship was admirable. In the fourth period he made a notable play, in which he knocked the ball around the field, getting nearly a dozen hits at it. Shooting it directly in front of Barrage the latter put it through the Princemere goal.

Sport Editorial

By GILL

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA

THE English Olympic athletes are handing their American rivals all kinds of generous compliments for the fine sense of sportsmanship shown at the great international games.

The Britons were badly beaten, but according to their report to the home committee, they were treated unfairly, so much so, that the wearers of the Union Jack threaten to resign from all future Olympics.

The chief feature of the report, as far as U. S. is concerned, is the big boost for the boys who sported the Stars and Stripes shield.

The kind words from abroad will come as a distinct shock to a flock of our friends here at home who are already comparing points scored by the U. S. and our population against that of some of the smaller countries.

Our boys went Over There—and won—victors on the athletic field as they were on the battle field, and too much praise cannot be showered upon them.

The "pat on the back" from England is very kind and well merited, but that is as it should be.

J. B. GILLOOLY.

WINTHROP B. B. C. HAS OPEN DATE SUNDAY

Owing to a mixup in dates, the Winthrop Baseball Club is without a game for Sunday July 27.

This club has won twenty-seven of the thirty-five games played this year and any team desiring a good attraction with a return game at Winthrop on a Saturday should write W. G. Harber, No. 8 High street, Boston or telephone Congress 6410.

Jack Conway Picks Tunney to Win Over Carpentier

Jack Conway, Boston [illegible] and holder of the world's record for picking winners, hands out the following selection on the Carpentier-Tunney bout in New York tonight.

"Tunney is a sure thing," said Jack. "Carpentier has been [illegible] as a [illegible] since Jack Dempsey hammered him [illegible] three years ago. [illegible] Battling Siki was [illegible] stop the Frenchman.

"Carpentier recently went the distance with Tom Gibbons because the Indiana law declares a bout a prize fight, with heavy penalties where there is a knockout."

Jack has picked 89 winners out of a possible 102 this year, which shatters his 1923 mark.

Don't be a slave to an Old Idea

Potatoes are dirty and messy, and peeling them every day keeps your hands red, rough and grimy. It takes you from 35 to 40 minutes to peel and cook them—a lot of time when you're in a hurry.

Get away from the Old Idea and serve Mueller's Macaroni, Elbow Macaroni, Spaghetti and Egg Noodles [illegible] potatoes. Only 9 minutes [illegible] ing to even soil your hands, [illegible] 100% pure, wholesome food.

You can serve Mueller's just as you do potatoes—with butter, with sauces, with meat gravies or with sauerkraut. Instead of creamed potatoes, serve Mueller's Macaroni prepared the same way. Instead of potatoes au gratin, use any one of the Mueller foods; instead of fried potatoes try Mueller's Egg Noodles.

Peeling potatoes twice a day means 23 full eight hour days per year of hard, disagreeable work.

AMERICAN BONUS BUREAU HAS AIDED 25,000

An army of 25,000 men!

More than six regiments of infantry at war-time strength. Almost a score of regiments of national guard size, could be recruited from the Boston American's bonus veteran's army.

This is the approximate number of world war veterans who have been aided in applying for adjusted compensation under the new Federal law, since the American soldiers' Friend bureau was established not more than six weeks ago.

And still they're coming.

If you are perplexed about the bonus law or any section of it, come into 100 Summer street and let the American experts help you solve your problems, or write us a letter setting forth what you want to know. It will be promptly and accurately answered.

Here are questions and answers:

C. F., MEDFORD, MASS.

Q. I enlisted in the Army July 10, 1917, served 23 months overseas and two months and a half at home. What will be the maximum credit allowed and payable at the end of twenty years?

A. The bonus law sets the sum of $625 as the maximum credit for overseas service. From the length of your service, you undoubtedly will be entitled to that credit, which will amount to about $1600 at the end of twenty years under the insurance certificate which will be issued to you.

E. H., ORANGE, MASS.

Q. I enlisted in the New York National Guard June 1, 1915, and was in service before the declaration of war with Germany, doing guard duty in New York. I was mustered into Federal service August 5, 1917, and was discharged March 6, 1919. How much bonus am I entitled to? Is there any preference to a disabled soldier?

A. If you were a member of the National Guard and called into Federal service by the President's proclamation date July 3, 1917, you are entitled to claim credit from that date. You are entitled to $1.00 a day for home service in excess of 60 days, and $1.25 a day for overseas duty. Under the law, all veterans discharged under honorable conditions are treated alike, and no preference is given to disabled soldiers.

W. S., Boston, Mass.

Q. I enlisted in the National Guard Defence Reserves on July 25, 1918, and served four months overseas and was discharged August 13, 1919. Am I entitled to a bonus?

A. If you were discharged under honorable conditions, you are eligible to make application for the bonus for service between April 6, 1917, and July 1, 1919.

MRS. C. M. K., South Boston.

Q. My son served in the World War from February, 1918, to May, 1919, then re-enlisted for a year in Germany. He joined some outfit three years ago and we have not heard from him since. I received his allotment, and I wish to know if I may make application for his bonus now.

A. The law provides that the veteran, if living, is the only person eligible to make application for the bonus. Upon the death of the veteran, his unmarried widow is entitled to the bonus, and if she is dead or has remarried, then the veteran's mother and father, in the order named, are next in the order of preference, provided they were dependent on his him for support at the time of his death.

W. W. P., Lynn, Mass.

Q. I enlisted in the Army December 20, 1915, in the Mexican Border service, and was discharged October 18, 1918. How much money will I be entitled to?

A. You will be entitled to a service credit for each day in excess of 60 days of active service after April 5, 1917, and before July 1, 1919, if you were discharged from the service under honorable conditions. You will receive a credit of $1.00 a day for each day of home service (after deducting the first sixty days service) and $1.25 a day for overseas service. This amount, multiplied by two and one-half will give you the approximate value—at maturity—of your adjusted service policy.

J. A. P., Lowell.

Q.—I joined the army July 22, 1918, served 11 months overseas, returned August 21, 1919. What will my insurance amount to?

A.—After deducting the first 60 days of home service, you will be entitled to a credit of $1 a day for such service plus $1.25 a day for overseas service. As near as we can figure you will be entitled to an adjusted service credit of $354, which will make the face value of your insurance certificate about $875.

C. E. S., CHARLESTOWN.

Q.—I am a veteran's widow with one child. My husband enlisted June 25, 1918 and died July 26, 1918. Am I entitled to the bonus?

A.—In view of the fact that your husband only served 31 days, you will not be eligible to receive the bonus. The Bonus Law provides that credit will be given to veterans who were in active service for more than 60 days.

CHICAGO MAY BE NEW STEEL CENTRE

Chicago, July 24.—The centering of the steel manufacturing and fabrication industries in the Chicago district instead of at Pittsburgh and the expenditure in this district of more than $200,000,000 for the extension of plants and the construction of additional ones, was forecast by leading steel and iron men here today as a result of the Federal Trade Commission ruling abolishing the "Pittsburgh-plus" system of steel price fixing.

JAP CABINET HAS NEW RUSSIAN PLAN

Tokio, July 24 (A.P.).—A new policy toward Russia, on which it is believed the government would be willing to grant recognition to the Soviet government, was adopted by the cabinet at an extraordinary session today.

WALTER WOOLF TO WED IN TWO WEEKS

Walter Woolf, matinee idol now in Boston with "The Dream Girl," will marry Miss Ernestine Rachrach, a wealthy society girl of Richmond, Va., two weeks from today at a formal wedding to be celebrated at the southern capital.

Woolf has been planning to marry for the past year, but owing to a series of unbroken theatrical engagements he has not had time to visit Richmond to claim his sweetheart.

$5,000,000 ALREADY PAID IN TAX REFUNDS

Washington, July 24.—The Treasury is making rapid progress in refunding overpayments on taxes resulting from the 25 per cent. reduction granted by Congress on this year's payments. Almost one-third of the total of $16,000,000 has already been returned to the taxpayers. Acting Secretary Winston said today that checks aggregating more than $5,000,000 had been mailed or are ready for mailing.

Bishop Haid Ill

Gastonia, N. C., July 24.—The Right Rev. Leo Haid, bishop of North Carolina and dean of the Catholic heirarchy of America, is critically ill at Belmont Abbey.

ANOTHER FREE TRIP TO NANTASKET TUESDAY

[illegible] at 9:15 and 10:15, Nantasket steamers will leave Rowes Wharf with 3,000 Greater Boston mothers and babies on the second last of the Boston American free outings for 1924.

On August 5, the same number of ticket-holders for the outings will be taken down the bay to cool Nantasket Beach on the last excursion of the season.

NO MORE TICKETS.

All tickets have been issued for these two excursions. No more coupons are being printed in the American, it being impossible to continue the free trips beyond August 5.

The Boston American's outings of this year have proved the most successful of any year.

More than 15,000 mothers and children, largely from the thickly settled tenement house sections of Greater Boston will have enjoyed the American's hospitality and the generosity of business men, friends of American mothers and kiddies when the last excursion has been given.

The managers of the Boston American's free outings would gladly continue the trips to Nantasket until the first school bells ring out in September. But this is impossible.

Now a few words to holders of tickets for the trips to come.

Make sure of the day assigned you on the ticket which you hold. It tells you whether it is good for July 29, next Tuesday, or the trip of August 5. It also reads "9:15 trip" or "10:45 trip."

If you have a ticket for a 9:15 trip on either day, be at Rowes Wharf not later than 9 o'clock. If your ticket is for the 10:45 boat, be on the dock at 10:30 o'clock sharp—not later.

MERCHANTS GENEROUS.

Food and fun for the mothers and children have been made possible because of the generosity of well-known Boston business men.

First there's Mr. Lane of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat line. Without his kindly aid and cooperation the free excursions would not have been possible.

Then there's Frank Bushway of the Bushway Ice Cream Company. His excellent Delmonico ice cream, given free of charge for the kiddies, will be a treat to all.

Through the courtesy of the [illegible] Cake Company and the Frank Cummings Milk Company, cake and high-grade milk will be distributed to the youngsters. The milk and cake are especially welcome to the mothers and babies.

MEDBURY SAYS---

By John P. Medbury

THERE are so many hot dog stands scattered throughout the country that a person with an automobile can get indigestion almost anywhere along the highway.

YOU no longer have to stay at home to enjoy gastritis.

SOME families always take a doctor with them when they go out riding on Sunday.

THE average physician charges five dollars a visit but this way it only costs you fifty cents because you can soak him four and a half for the ride.

IF he says he didn't care for the ride you can tell him that you didn't like his medicine either.

ONE man claims he doesn't need a doctor. He takes a dyspepsia tablet from force of habit every time he pulls up to one of these stands.

HIS wife is more particular. She won't eat a hot dog unless it has a pedigree.

THE proprietors of these stands have their hot dogs trained to jump between two pieces of bread every time they hear a machine coming.

BUT the sausages are getting smarter all the time. They can tell from the sound of your motor whether you're going to stop or not.

THEY like to save themselves as many jumps as possible.

ASTROLOGERS seemed to waste time studying stars, casting horoscopes. They were actually building up knowledge of astronomy.

Ancient alchemists, vainly seeking transmutation of inferior metals into gold, gave the world its first knowledge of chemistry and chemical combinations.

Science laughed until lately at the mere suggestion of "transmutation, as it still laughs at 'squaring the circle,' 'perpetual motion,' and some other 'absurdities.'"

But it laughs at transmutation no longer.

What were thought to be eternal, permanent and unchangeable "elements," gold, silver, iron, copper, etc., are called by modern scientists permanent and unchangeable NO longer.

They are merely arrangements of electrons and nuclei particles of electric energy that might be compelled to change one into the other, or abolish them all.

We and the cosmo are such stuff as electrons are made of, and that's all we know.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Is it all right to have my baby [illegible]?

MRS. W. H. J., MALDEN.

The baby should be vaccinated before teething begins or as an interval between the eruption of his teeth.

Will you please tell me about how many feedings per day I am to give my six months old baby? Have been told so many different things that I am afraid I am not doing the right thing.

MRS. M. K., WALPOLE.

A baby of five or six months of age should have about six feedings in twenty-four hours, at intervals of about four hours apart.

Is there anything which you know of that may be applied externally to give relief to an external cancer of the skin?

B. E. A., ROXBURY.

If you have any reason to believe that you have a cancer, you should see to that by seeing a surgeon or visit the out patient department of the Boston City Hospital. It would be very serious for you to use anything externally with the hope of curing cancer.

Husband Out of Work

Helping Hand Editor:

I am in very needy circumstances and my husband has been out of work for three months and he is not very strong. I have five small children, the oldest 12 and three, and they are all in need of clothing and shoes. The youngest is 15 months and I am also in need of clothing. My size is 44 in waist line and would be more than thankful to you for anything you could give me. If you know of anyone who has a stroller to give away, I would be more than thankful. I haven't anything to take the baby out, and also for a couch mattress for the children to sleep on.

MRS. T. N.

Would Take Motherless Child

Helping Hand Editor:

Would some kind reader be willing to advance me some money so that I might settle some bills in exchange for which I would board a motherless child. I have boarded children for the past twenty years and have taken care of delicate babies. Or perhaps there is some lady or man alone in the world who would be willing to advance me this money in return for a comfortable and cheery home. I can give A-1 reference.

MRS. B. L. S.

Oldest of 5 Pleads

Helping Hand Editor:

I am the oldest of five children, all of which have no clothing. I am 14, my brother is nine and my three sisters are six, four and one year. My mother cannot do anything because of the baby and my father does not work steadily. My mother would like some black clothing size 40 and shoes size 7. I go to the Junior High School. I was on the honor roll three times. I am ashamed to go to school because of my shabby clothing and old shoes. I wish somebody would send me any kind of clothes.

Many thanks for your kind donation. We are sending this money to Mrs. A. H., who is advanced in years and not able to work on account of her eyesight.

FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

Immediately John W. Davis was nominated by the Democrats as their standard-bearer, reporters swarmed to his place on Long Island and interviewed his servants. What the cook and kitchen maid, what the gardener and what the chauffeur had to say was recorded at length.

Some superior-minded gentlemen ridiculed the idea of quoting servants. They implied that journalism had fallen to a low estate when the views of "menials" were given front-page prominence. While these superior gentlemen did not say so, their whole attitude indicated that only the views of "swell" personages in themselves were worthy of consideration.

* * *

Now, wouldn't you, as a voter, rather get the intimate truth about a candidate from those who are of his household than read comments made for publication by the candidate's business or political friends, some of whom would be figuring on receiving favors should the candidate reach the White House.

* * *

When I start gathering material for a character sketch of a man I set more stock by what his employes say about him than by what any other business leaders say.

* * *

Why?

Because, while a so-called big man may wear a pleasant smile and act the role of a good fellow while he is at his club or on his yacht or at the golf course, he cannot fool, at least for very long, either his own workers or, for that matter, his domestic servants.

* * *

Again, while a man may maneuver to win a reputation for generosity among those of his own class, you can depend upon getting the genuine truth from those who draw their pay from him. If he grinds down his own employes and pays them just as little as he can get, then I know that he doesn't ring true at heart.

* * *

It was not tenth-rate journalism to have reporters quiz Mr. Davis' servants and get from them close-ups of their employer. It was distinctly intelligent journalism. I venture to say that more people read what Davis' chauffeur and cook said about him than read the oration delivered in nominating Mr. Davis at the convention—I can't recall offhand who made the nominating speech.

* * *

When I visited Washington shortly after Calvin Coolidge became President, I made it my business to talk about him with the rank and file of the people rather than with leading citizens. And, as a matter of fact, the most interesting comment of all was the one I got from a veteran elevator operator in the New Willard Hotel, where Mr. Coolidge had been staying as Vice-President before he moved into the White House. Said the elevator operator:

"Mr. Coolidge is a very human man and he has two of the finest lads you ever met. I have known all the Presidents for many years, and I tell you that Mr. Coolidge is as good a man as the best of them. He stayed at this house as Vice-President and as President. The big job didn't go to his head and it didn't go to the heads of his boys, either. Of course, Mr. Coolidge doesn't go in for dancing and he's not strong on your swell dinners or in gadding around. But there are enough other people to go in for that sort of thing. He believes in attending to his business without any fuss. It's a good thing for the country to have a sensible man like him in the White House."

* * *

If you are wise, you will not despise what workmen and servants think about you or about others. It isn't easy to fool workers and servants.

ISLAND CREEK COAL EARNINGS INCREASE

Island Creek Coal Co. reports for six months ended June 30, 1924, net profits available for dividends of $1,436,874. After the period's preferred dividends, these profits were equivalent to $10.35 a share on the 118,801 shares of common stock, compared with $10.20 a share in the first half of 1923.

YOUNGSTOWN SHEET EARNINGS LOWER

Youngstown Sheet & Tube earned net income of $1,557,873 in the quarter ended June 30, equal after preferred dividends to $1.64 a share on the common stock, against $3,700,634 or $3.55 a share in preceding quarter.

PRICES MIXED IN NEW YORK TRADING

Overnight news developments of an unfavorable character, reacting against special stocks, gave an irregular appearance to the New York stock market at the opening.

Atlantic Gulf & West Indies broke 4 points following the filing of a $5,000,000 damage suit by its subsidiary, the Ward Line, and Interborough dropped two points on warning against speculation in the stock by transit commission authorities. Accumulation of the coppers continued.

WATER WORKS UP.

Bidding up of selected issues contrasted with the speculative selling of others, with fluctuations mainly confined to narrow limits.

Interborough rallied a point, but heaviness persisted as a result of the transit official's statement that recent optimistic statements regarding financial conditions and earnings had been unauthorized.

Reassured by the steadiness of the lists, traders bought recent favorites, including coppers, low-priced oils and some of the public utilities.

American Water Works moved up 4 points, and Pan-American and Marland oils improved materially. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

Boston opened firm: Bost. & Me. 16½, up ¼; Hardy Coal 26; Am. Tel. 123, up ½; Copper 24⅞, up ½; Copper R. 27⅞, up ¼.

CALUMET SUES.

Calumet & Hecla has brought suit against the Seneca Copper Corporation seeking the return of the Gratiot Mining Co., purchased from it by Seneca.

Through its receivers, Seneca has obtained a temporary injunction in New York restraining the Bankers Trust Company from delivering to Calumet & Hecla any stock of the Gratiot Mining Company.

Because of its receivership Seneca Copper defaulted on a property payment of $50,000 due Calumet & Hecla June 15 last.

On the other hand, the Gratiot Mining Company owes Seneca over $1,000,000 representing money spent for development.

This litigation is a move on the part of Calumet & Hecla to protect its interests.

LOADINGS OF CARS TURN UP SHARPLY

Freight traffic figures announced by American Railway Association show loadings turned sharply upward in second week of July, following the poor showing in the first week on account of Independence Day. Loadings in week ended July 12 totaled 910,415 cars, an increase of 150,473 on 19.7 p. c. over preceding week. Compared with corresponding week of last year, the total was a decrease of 103,394 cars, or 10.7 p. c., but it exceeded 1922 by 59,739 cars, or 7 p. c.

AMERICAN BRASS ADVANCES PRICES

MOVE TO HELP INVESTORS IS MADE

Action to protect investors in bankers' shares acquired through investment trust corporations or similar organizations is announced by the New York Stock Exchange.

Recent offerings of these shares, secured by stocks of leading companies in the different industries, opened up a type of financing new to this country, but established in England.

A resolution adopted by governors of the exchange, says: "Participation by a member of the exchange or a stock exchange firm in the formation or management of investment trust corporations or similar organizations, which in the opinion of the governing committee involve features which do not properly protect the interests of investors, may be held to an act detrimental to the interests of the welfare of the exchange."

No reflection upon previous offerings of trusteed stocks was intended by the stock exchange, officials explained, the step being taken solely to safeguard future investors in view of the day of abuse in the formation of trusts.

SHOE INDUSTRY REVIEWED AT HARVARD

A bulletin of the Harvard Bureau of Business Research indicates the reason for slow collections in the shoe industry, result of which was shown in the large accounts receivable returned by Endicott Johnson Corporation for July 1. Statements from 499 shoe retailers having sales from under $30,000 to over $250,000 in 1923 showed gross margin of profit to be 29.4 per cent., net 1.7 per cent., and turnover only 1.9 per cent. In 1922 there was no net profit, and losses were common.

The effect on Endicott Johnson is shown by a comparison of accounts and notes receivable and notes payable since July 1, 1922. On that date receivables were $8,812,304, bank loans $7,950,000. A year later customers and other debtors owed the company $13,014,417, and bank loans had to be increased to $12,000,000 for needs of the business. The figures for July 1 last were $12,757,186 receivables and $11,950,000 notes payable.

The way retailers' profits increase with turnover is shown by losses of 2.1 per cent. reported by retailers with turnover below 1.4 per cent.; with turnover above 2.01 per cent. profit was 4 per cent.

SELLING NEW ENGLAND CAMPAIGN TO BE CARRIED INTO ALL SIX STATES

"The best New England product we have—Calvin Coolidge—will be on sale this Fall, so September appeared to be the psychological time to stage a New England Week, September 15-20, for the purpose of boosting New England products," said John S. Lawrence, chairman of the New England week executive committee.

He made this statement to 200 sales executives of New England manufacturers at a conference in Federal Reserve Bank.

E. F. Cullen

J. S. Lawrence

E. Fred Cullen was chosen permanent chairman of the New England sales executive committee to co-operate with the general executive committee. Several persons addressed the gathering, all emphasizing the need of "selling New England to New Englanders."

LIST OF SPEAKERS.

The speakers included Mark W. Burlingame, Barrett Andrews, publisher of the Boston American; A. H. Kenyon, V. P. Maloney, Professor Daniel Starch of Harvard Business Administration School, and Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird.

Mr. Lawrence said in part:

"The general economic depression of the past few months has brought home the special seriousness of the New England industrial situation. It has lessened wage distribution, reduced the purchasing power of our people, to say nothing of the loss of capital value and equitable industrial earnings.

Mrs. C. S. Bird

A. K. Kenyon

"Costs in New England are higher than in most sections South, West and abroad. Our future lies in the production of something dependent on other factors than cost for its success. It lies in specialties, in service, in quality and in intelligent resourceful salesmanship.

URGES LOCAL PRIDE.

"I welcome this meeting of executive sales managers of New England. It is through you that the factory secures the orders. It is to assist your efforts that New England Week is designed.

"Let us first sell the community in which the factory has located its products, and create at home a local pride in our factory and our goods."

Many resolutions were passed by the conference. Among them were:

"Resolved, that the conference condemns any and all money-raising schemes of individual or organizations on the strength of this movement other than those of the general committee.

"That the conference rules against any unfair demands on the part of New England retailers and wholesalers and consumers of any sort. It is the object of New England Week to sell New England made merchandise on its merits.

TO CARRY MESSAGE.

"That the conference urge every salesman travelling in the New England Week territory to join the N. E. W. (New England Workers) and that they wear the official button constantly from now until the end of New England Week so that people on the road may be carrying their message constantly throughout every city and town in New England.

"That the conference does not believe the newspapers of New England should publish special issues in connection with New England Week unless such special issues are thoroughly endorsed by the general executive committee. This is to prevent unauthorized special schemes so that manufacturers of New England will not be burdened by solicitations.

"This conference feels, however, that every manufacturer in New England should co-operate with the press and should take such advertising space in his own home town and whatever newspaper he may deem advisable to tell the story of his New England made product to his own community and the rest of the people of New England."

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird pledged the active co-operation of the women of New England to the movement to develop New England industries by the purchase of New England goods.

Mrs. Bird said that the various organizations of women would support the movement because New England made goods afforded quality, as well as variety.

C. A. Whitney

M. W. Burlingame

FOR ECONOMIC SURVEY

Mr. Cullen, who opened the meeting, explained the purpose of New England Week, and the progress of plans for its observance.

Mr. Burlingame told of advertising and publicity plans. Among other things he is considering a button to be inscribed either New England Boosters or New England Workers. He is in touch with New England editors and urged the other sales executives to use their influence to get their home-town papers to take an interest.

On thing needed in connection with the New England Week plan is a complete economic survey of New England, Professor Starch told those present. He said the first way to boost New England products was to find out what they were.

"Some of us are not nearly as well informed in the matter as we think we are," he declared. "For instance, peaches and tobacco are raised in New England. We ought to know all the products and the comparative importance of each."

Mr. Andrews told the sales executives they were in a wonderfully interesting calling, and were the keymen of progress.

To New England you should be lifesavers, and you are," he continued. "Reticence is charming, but carried into business and adhered to with too much strictness, it becomes a liability. New England must tell itself and the rest of the country just how important it is.

"We have here the population and the money to do great things. We have a tremendous consuming market. We need enthusiasm in our selling of New England. Let us get it at this most auspicious time."

FAITH IN N. E.

V. P. Maloney, foreign advertising man for the Globe, presented each person present with a copy of "Boston—The Gateway of New England." He told what his newspaper had been doing to encourage people to have faith in New England.

Mr. Nugent of the Herald-Traveler furnished statistics showing Boston's place among the markets of the world. He said salesmanship was needed, and better and more aggressive salesmanship.

Robert F. Guild of the Boston Advertiser pledged the support of his newspaper. Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, vice-chairman of the general committee, told how the women meant to help New England Week. Primarily the plan is in the interests of women, she added, for anything that tends to keep New Englanders in New England and make them more prosperous and contented cannot fail to have a good influence on the home.

QUOTATIONS JUMP IN COTTON MARKET

Cotton prices on the New York market jumped from 51 to 58 points over night, lifting July contracts to 35.30 and December to 29.53. This represented a rise of more than $10 a bale in two days. Alarming crop reports from the Southwest, notably Texas, and a large business in the cotton goods market at advancing prices were the principal sources of the market's strength.

QUOTATIONS MIXED IN GRAIN FUTURES

Quotations were mixed in grain futures in Chicago. Prices: Wheat—July 132; Sept. 129½ to ⅝; Dec. 132 to ¾; May 137¼ to ¾. Corn—July 103¾; Sept. 104¾ to 105; Dec. 92½ to ⅝; May 93½ to ⅝. Oats—July 55; Sept. 47 to ¼; Dec. 49½ to ⅝; May 52⅝ to ⅝.

$1,750,000 LOSS BY 1,057 FOREST FIRES

San Francisco, July 24.—A total of 1,057 forest fires burning over 237,000 acres and causing damage to timber and crops approximating $1,750,000 occurred in California between January 1 and July 20 this year, according to figures compiled by the California Development Association today. Of the area burned 184,500 acres are in national forests.

The situation in the State today is greatly improved with no new fires reported and all the big fires under control.

FIFTH INFANTRY DAY AT CAMP DEVENS

Camp Devens, July 24.—Officers from the army base in Boston, as well as those from the reserve and National Guard, will join in a great celebration here tomorrow in honor of the Fifth Infantry, one of the oldest regular army organizations in the country.

The special military program, given by the regulars at Camp Devens, will be in charge of Brigadier General Barnum.

HEAVY DAMAGE BY HURRICANE IN FRANCE

Grenoble, France, July 24.—The valley of Isere has been ravaged by a hurricane of exceptional violence. The suspension bridge between St. Gervais and Albeno has been destroyed and hundreds of fruit and other trees uprooted. A number of buildings have been wrecked and crops and vines everywhere destroyed in the regions of central and southern France.

FIRST CORPS CADETS HOLD VETERANS' DAY

Senator William S. Youngman, member of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, and candidate for State Treasurer, with Captain Freeman Hinckley and other U. S. Army officers, were visitors from Boston at the First Corps Cadets camp in New London Harbor.

The occasion was the observance of Veterans' Day by the Corps.

Gold in Our Teeth—Plenty of It

And Much More in the Ground

Mr. Davis, Secretary of Labor, rejoicing in our great country, says that American workmen have more gold in their teeth than other workmen have—all told.

It may not be true, but this is SURE. The unused lands of the United States contain more potential wealth going to waste than all the wealth of any country in Europe. It is a pity that our own foolishness, expressed in the laws against immigration, will not allow good men to come here and develop that wealth for themselves and for us.

Would it have been foolish to shut out good immigrants when our population was 10,000,000? It is just as stupid to shut out good citizens with our population at 112,000,000.

We need 100,000,000 more people now, just as we did 100 years ago. He who does not know it does not know much about the country or what brings wealth.

Using the Brain

A Shift of Thought From Cigarettes, Baseball, and "Winner" to Things That Come Might Pay Well

Have you ever thought about the possibility of digging a useful invention out of your FRONT BRAIN where ideas are born? This is the country, and the American is the type for the production of inventions.

The American Patent Office has issued over a million and a half of patents. Fifty million copies of the patents cover twenty miles of shelves in the Patent Office.

This country has a right to be proud of its inventive genius. The Patent Office announces these among other American inventions:

> "United States patents have been granted to American inventors for the telegraph, the telephone, the sewing machine, the vulcanization of rubber, the moving picture, the phonograph, the incandescent light, the typewriter, the automobile, the sleeping car, the electric car, the linotype machine, the vacuum cleaner, the aeroplane and the leading features that make modern radio possible."

Where would the world be today without the things listed there?

Thousands of other new ideas will be developed, making the inventors rich and famous.

Why not devote some thought to a new idea? It may not succeed, of course, but at least it doesn't cost anything. That is more than you can say for the pastime of "picking the winners."

Marriage, Death, Quarrel

Like the Middle Ages

Jenny Lefkowitz, daughter of orthodox Jewish parents, met Dominick Scola, a little Italian boy, when she was going to public school and he to the parochial school. Later they were married.

The girl's parents, considering her dead, held funeral services in her memory, fasted for a week and never again mentioned her name. She soon died of quick consumption and [illegible] crowds of hostile Italians and Jews [illegible] the police were sent to re- [illegible]

The girl's parents say she died because she wasn't allowed to practice her religion. Her husband said she became a Catholic that she might be buried in consecrated ground and lie beside him. The police prevented trouble among the screaming crowds in the street.

The girl was buried from the Church of Our Most Precious Blood, under a strong police guard.

That is the bare police record. It helps you to realize what religious animosities and hatreds must have been in the Middle Ages.

What does God think of it, assuming that the power managing this universe keeps track of us in minute detail?

Broken Neck, How Much?

And Good Coolidge News

Miss Rosetta Duncan, who acts, sings and dances for a living, had her nose and a rib or two broken by a gentleman of the police force in the small town of Cicero, Illinois. She told about it and did not praise the policeman.

He and his associates on the police force have sued her and her brother for $60,000. For how much would they have sued her had they broken the lady's NECK instead of merely breaking her nose and rib?

The government board that lends money to farmers announces an interest rate reduction to 5 per cent. from 5½. That will interest Senator La Follette and J. W. Davis. When farmers are told that they can borrow mortgage money from the government at 5 per cent., they will feel that President Coolidge's Administration is doing well.

Most of them don't know that Stock Exchange gamblers can borrow all the 2 per cent. "time money" they want to carry on private speculation from private banks.

Two hundred thousand farmers borrowed $58,000,000 from the Federal Board last year. If any farmer wants mortgage money, let him step up and get it at 5 per cent., while the campaign lasts.

He Won't Keep It

Such Money "Goes Back"

The young son of General Wood, supposed to have made millions in Wall Street speculating over the cable under the Pacific Ocean, tells his friends that he made half a million at Monte Carlo. That isn't good news for his REAL friends.

The man who makes half a million, francs or dollars, at gambling is on the way to give the gamblers all he has.

Who gives to the poor lends to the Lord; who wins from the gambler only has the money lent to him. It will go back and more with it. And he will be poor.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

THERE'S no place like home! And on a blue Monday morning you're glad of it!

* * *

Home! Where the joys and sorrows of man are shared by all—and likewise the towels and brushes and soap and talcum and shower-bath and groceries and morning newspaper.

* * *

Helen Rowland

Home—the place where no secret thought is possible, where no private opinion meets with respect and no pet folly escapes derision.

* * *

Home—where liberties are freely taken, impertinent questions are asked, advice frankly given and unsolicited criticism offered without apology.

* * *

Home! A man's castle—except that there is no drawbridge, moat or portcullis to defend him against the prying neighbor, the unexpected dinner guest or the visiting family.

* * *

Home—where no personal belonging is sacred; not even a man's letters or a woman's beauty cream!

* * *

Home! Where the cook sets the dinner hour, the radio sets the retiring hour, and the baby sets the waking hour.

* * *

Home—where you've GOT to eat when the rest are hungry—sleep when the rest are sleepy, suffer on cleaning days and be bored on Sundays.

* * *

Where everybody borrows your handkerchiefs, your toothpowder, your shoe-horn, your books and your umbrella—and there is no such word as "Thank you."

* * *

Where the Sunday roast becomes stew on Monday, hash on Tuesday, and soup on Wednesday, and you can't send it back to the kitchen or kick to the "management."

* * *

Home—where you can have everything you want—provided somebody else doesn't want it at the same moment.

* * *

Home—where there is only one tenderloin to the steak, one heart to the lettuce, and everybody demands a piece of the breast of the chicken.

* * *

Home—where the desire to sit in the other room and read a book is regarded as an insult, and the desire to be ALONE is a sign of mental derangement.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

FRIENDS may say that luck attends me, that I tread an easy way, and a kindly fortune sends me much I long for every day. Now, I could not well gainsay them, that would be a graceless thing, and, in fact, as I survey them, all the days their blessings bring. Gifts of friends and love and kindness, gifts of plenty for each need; gift of sight redeemed from blindness, threatened once by foolish greed. It is true, these joys surround me and with thankfulness I say that a deep content has crowned me which will never pass away. Yet I could not well appraise them, tell which gifts are great, which small, how the world would mock or praise them . . . save for one, the best of all! There are countless bonds and fetters Love can weave to hold a heart; but for me my Mother's letters have no earthly counterpart. Day by day they journey to me, tender as my Mother's face; day by day their words imbue me with a little of her grace. Here in numbers ever growing they are gently laid away; like a fountain ever flowing, wells her love from day to day. Ever something new and tender, some sweet thought of hope and cheer, something of her spirit's splendor captured on the pages here. When the postman comes, I wonder does he dream what precious things lie amid the jumbled plunder of the daily mail he brings?

85-Year-Old Invalid in Need

Helping Hand Editor:

Please Editor I am asking you in a case of charity if there is anyone who has a white iron bed and spring they don't need, also some old sheets and anything in the line of clothing for a lady who is an invalid with a broken back and two broken ribs. She is 85 years old and sleeps on a couch which is very uncomfortable. I am a friend of hers and it is very hard for her boy to make both ends meet. Anything would be appreciated, for she is greatly in want. Also some night dresses. She hasn't any. I can patch anything and if anyone has a suit for a lady or a skirt and waist suit 44. MRS. L. C. B.

Grateful

Helping Hand Editor:

I received a letter from a lady in regard to a machine and she also had some other things which are real useful to me. I thank her very much and hope she enjoys the best of health and prosperity. MRS. C. B. C.

Cripple Wants Radio Set

Helping Hand Editor:

I am a boy 16 years old and I am a cripple and can't go out much. Has anyone of your kind readers a small radio set as we cannot afford one. I will be very glad to get it. JOHN 1.

Need a Vacation

Helping Hand Editor:

Have heard of the good work done by members of the Helping Hand and wish to ask if there is one among the number who can accommodate a Christian mother and daughter of 12 for a short vacation. The mother works every day and is very tired. She is about to have a two weeks' vacation and would like to go to salt water if possible to rest. MRS. E. M. 1.

Thanks for Mrs. W. W. C.

Helping Hand Editor:

Please thank Mrs. W. W. C. through your column, as I lost her address, for the things she sent me. They were wonderful and very serviceable.

MRS. E. R.

Children Need Clothes

Helping Hand Editor:

I wish you would try and help a woman with five children. Her husband has been out of work for seven months and doesn't know when he will start again. The children's ages are: Boys, 14, 12, 10; girls, 11 and six years. Any clothes and shoes would be appreciated. Boys' shoes, 6-3½ and 13; girls' shoes, 1½ and 8.

MRS. L. C. 5

Mrs. M. C. Thanked

Helping Hand Editor:

Will you please thank Mrs. M. C. of Roslindale for the bundle of clothing she sent me.

MRS. L. P. S.

All Need Clothes

Editor Helping Hand:

Would you please help us? My father has been out of work three months and my mother is dead. I have three sisters, 8, 6, 3; three brothers, 15, 14 and one year. I am eighteen. We all need clothes very badly. I am an expectant mother next month and have no clothes for the new arrival. My husband works only three days a week. Thanking you very much.

MRS. M. B. 6.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON BRING BOOK BACK

By DR. FRANK CRANE

IT is a strange kink in the human conscience that people who will not steal anything else will steal a book.

Perhaps it is an offshoot of the general idea that books, and the intellectual labor that goes to produce them, really count for nothing compared to beefsteak and potatoes.

Whatever may be the reason, the fact is that almost every man's library contains one or more rebranded mavericks which are liable to rise up and say a few words on the Day of Judgment, unless he gives them back.

Some are so lost to all sense of shame in this matter that the books they have purloined are the ones they value most. In fact, they do not seem to enjoy a book thoroughly unless it belongs to somebody else.

From what Freudian abyss this impulse comes we leave it to the psychologist to determine.

However, we ran across a bit of history the other day which is here set down as a warning to all book thieves.

About 1836 the people of Barcelona were living in a sort of terror. One mysterious crime succeeded another. A priest, a student, a writer and five other persons successively were assassinated.

The victim, in each case, was stabbed by a poignard, but nothing was stolen from him, neither his money nor his valuables.

Why all these murders?

Suspicion, by and by, fell upon a man who kept a second-hand book store.

He was seized. Some proofs were found of his guilt and finally he confessed.

It seems that he had sold each of his victims some volume which he loved and then had murdered them so as to get the precious books back.

He was condemned to death and executed.

This story resembles that of the famous jeweler whom Hoffman describes in his story, "Mlle. Scudery." This jeweler assassinated, at night, a client who had bought during the day some beautiful stone with which the jeweler was in love.

The moral of all this is simply to show those persons who fail to return books that do not belong to them that there is such a thing as loving a book, and that this love also can rise to such a passionate height as to eventuate in violence.

And if a man who has bought a book is liable to be murdered by the man who sold it to him, how much more danger do they run who borrow books with or without the owner's knowledge, and neglect to bring them back!

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON SAVING OUR FORESTS

By Garrett P. Serviss.
Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

NOT long ago I listened, with the aid of the radio waves, to an address in Washington by an officer of the United States Forestry Service, on the ravages made by forest fires. Of course, we all know that forest fires are very numerous and very destructive in dry seasons, and that it is to the interest of every inhabitant of the land that they should be prevented. But we need to have our attention called more frequently and more emphatically to the fact that the careless setting of a forest ablaze is nothing less than a crime, and it ought to be dealt with as a criminal act. It is a blow at the prosperity of the whole country.

Once we had 822,000,000 acres of virgin forest; now we have only 137,000,000. We have left, it is true, 325,000,000 acres covered more or less with forest trees of varying quality, but none of virgin growth. These include 245,000,000 acres of second growth, much less than half of which is "saw-timber" size, while there are 81,000,000 acres which have been cut over, burnt over and allowed to go to the dogs in general, so that they are practically unproductive of timber or of anything else.

It is authoritatively stated that all over the United States where any noticeable amount of forest still exists, it is being cut off four times as fast as it is renewed! And on top of this recklessness come the forest fires, burning and ruining hundreds of thousands of acres every year.

There is no more melancholy spectacle in the world than that of a burnt forest, with its blackened stumps and its twisted and tortured limbs and branches, and the tangle of parasitical weeds and brushes hastening to cover its site with a vast, repellant scar. Since the earliest settlements, when the glorious native forests clothed the continent with oceanlike amplitude, it is probable that more forest trees have been destroyed by fire than by timber cutting.

The latter can be defended in part, at least, on the score of necessady use; but for the fires there is no such excuse. Accident is too immunizing a word to apply to the results of carelessness and indifference. An unextinguished match, or a still burning cigar, or cigarette, stub, thrown aside into a mass of leaves or undergrowth, has been the cause of the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of timber. Equally dangerous are the embers of camp fires, and fires built by a passing automobile party to prepare lunch.

Nobody who has not had practical experience with such things can imagine how subtly a thread of fire will eat its way in dry, or partly dry, grass, seeming sometimes to feed upon the soil itself, charged as it is with dry vegetable matter, and so spreading unnoticed, under the cover of leaves and fallen logs, to break out, after those who should have hunted it down have gone, in a destructive conflagration.

When we burn up our coal beds we can do nothing to replace them. Coal is, or has been, a product requiring geological periods of time for its creation. Once gone, it is gone for that age. But a forest is renewable by a continuing process. It may be replanted, in part, all the time, and so be kept alive for generation after generation to use its treasures. But with that aim its resources must be husbanded.

Expense must not exceed income. A reasonable restraint must be exercised in the cutting, for it is vastly better to have a moderate supply that never gives out than to indulge in extravagance, which quickly uses all and leaves nothing. These common places of domestic economy have a particular application in the art and science of forestry.

Once-Overs

GIVE DUE CONSIDERATION TO THE AGED.

Do you pay proper respect to old age?

The slow-moving person looks to you like an obstacle in your way.

Is it not also true that you are not respectful to the elderly person employed in the place where you work?

Do you not consider the elderly person filling a menial job as one who is entitled to little consideration from you?

Perhaps at your age that person was better prepared for "old age" as you look at it, than you are today, but misfortune has swept away savings and unfortunate investments have meant indebtedness.

There are other things which may have acted as handicaps.

Family illnesses, entailing big doctor's fees, hospital bills, or a death in the family, which kept eating up what would have been saved year after year to get the bills satisfied.

Perhaps parents have been unfortunate, or a brother has had to be set up in business, or a sister to be educated and helped to success.

All these things and many others may have taken away every cent till the generous one is at last at old age and must take a menial position or become a burden to someone, so if you are just you will hesitate before you show disrespect to an aged one who must do odd jobs to keep going.
